The economic pressure does not belong exclusively to the unemployed. Even those who have employment scan with frugal consideration the length of their paycheck. Friend brings me a story of a solicitation yesterday from transient who was trying to collect enough money to get a place to sleep. The party to whom he presented his appeal looked like a prosperous business man. He had just an ordinary job. The salary was small and he was trying to make it go as far as possible. He had spent 10 cents for a glass of milk. That was for lunch. He was conserving what money he had. Then along came the unemployed who asked for help, and the man who had spent 10 cents for milk gave the man who made the appeal 25 cents to help him find a place to sleep. The point to the story is that the man who helped wasn't so far from needing help himself.

"Say, Skinny, why don't you say something about those birds who mumble the national anthem at service clubs, and whose posture while facing the flag would give a Boy Scout the bellyache?" Well, there it is, just about the way you said it. But to amplify: There is an inattention and indifference about flag attitude. Some fellows will have their hands in their pockets, others stand on one foot, some do not face the flag at all, others stooped over, and some gawking around the room who wouldn't know whether there was a flag in evidence or ever heard of Betsy Ross. It would help some if there was a little more military appearance on the part of the audience when singing national anthems. Sort of makes you feel that there was a country you could call "my."

Paul Plavin from the Huntington Beach section came in yesterday to demand rain. Paul turns over the ground with a plow so big that it takes several tractors to pull it. I do not have to buy the gasoline, so I should worry.

Dave Coughlin, from the Mulholland hotel, Los Angeles, comes in to bring up a common and never-ending subject—taxation. He is associated with some other fellows who seek relief, and proposes to take the tax off real estate and personal property, and broaden the sales tax to where it becomes a transactions tax with which to pay the cost of government, state, county, city and schools. He believes the system will prove to be a boon to business. This tax question has been bothering people for a long time. Seems like the first time I read anything about it was when old Caesar was collecting from the boys out in the sticks, the roadside peddler and the regularly established merchant. No one escaped.

My young friend, Dan Maloney, Jr., who is in La Porte City, Iowa, helping a relative receive and disburse money from the banker's point of view, says he occasionally gets time to scan this column, and makes a proposition. He says if I ever grow any olives on that nut farm, he'll swap me a couple of ears of hybrid corn for some nice, fresh, un-picked ones, so he can let the Iowans (yes, there are some who do not live in Long Beach) have a real treat. Dan also ventures the opinion that winter has arrived. Ten below zero.

And what I think of the fellow who won't teach his wife to operate a car is the same thing his wife thinks.

Kansas friend receives with grief report of another dust storm in those sections where the wheat grows. The news stepped up the wheat quotations about three cents, and took about half of it out of industrials.

When I asked George Rockefeller to give a field box estimate on a certain orange grove, he was reluctant to do so, on the ground that a prediction made today might be ridiculous when the packing house went in to pick the crop. Weather was a variable element, and how many sizes the fruit would grow—if any—before

FDR Dooms Holding Companies

ATTEMPTS TO MODIFY ACT ATTACKED

'Death Sentence'
Backed By President

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he favored the elimination of all holding companies.

The President made the statement at a press conference expressing unalterable opposition to the modification of the "death sentence" in the utility holding company act which had been proposed by Wendell L. Willkie, head of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation, as one condition to an "understanding" with the administration.

The President did not indicate how he would terminate the holding company practice, but said remote control of local community banking should be ended as well as similar practices in the utility and other fields.

NO BANKRUPTCY
Asked if bankruptcy was the way out, the President replied in the negative and said there were various other ways.

He also was asked if the taxing power was to be utilized, answering that he had not reached that yet.

Mr. Roosevelt told a large gathering of reporters that holding companies should be wiped out even down to those of the first degree. Why have any at all, he asked.

He replied with an emphatic affirmative when asked if he would eliminate the principle to all lines of business.

LITTLE BANKER
He then gave his illustration of the community bank which was controlled in a large financial center. He said the little banker was going and that was a bad thing.

Why, he asked, can't a small

BUSY DAY FOR FIRE LADDIES

State Forester Joe Scherman of Orange offered only a dry grin today, reminded of that once-popular ditty, "Little Man, You've Had a Busy Day."

The record of Scherman and his fire-fighters yesterday: At 3:50 p. m.—Called to Stanton, where a pool hall at Oak and Chestnut streets was destroyed by fire, with a net loss of $410. The blaze, Scherman said, was caused by children playing with matches. The building was owned by Mrs. Isabel Bahner. Fire trucks from Midway City and Garden Grove helped fight the blaze.

Thirty minutes later, at 4:20 p. m.—Called to West Seventeenth street, just this side of the Santa Ana river bridge, to fight a brush fire which covered several acres, with little loss.

Then, at 5:30 p. m.—Called to Greenville, where a three-car garage and employee's residence on the John Borchard ranch went up in flames imperiling a barn containing 100 tons of hay and other buildings. Labored, with the Santa Ana fire department, until 9:30 p. m., salvaging most of the other buildings. The garage and residence was a total loss.

Coy Officials Ruin Show at Newport Launching

The Los Angeles harbor department received a new 40-foot utility boat built at Newport harbor yesterday, but without the advertised fanfare of a formal launching and popping champagne bottles.

Officials refused to pose for photographs, and the $16,000 cruiser was allowed to splash into the bay before Newport Beach city officials, invited to witness the event, had arrived, harbor residents said.

The new craft was said to be the first of several expected to be built at Newport for the Los Angeles department.

Revolution Nears As French Premier Quits

NEW CABINET SOUGHT BY PRESIDENT

Dealings in Foreign Currency Suspended

PARIS. (AP)—Georges Bonnet, until recently French ambassador to Washington and finance minister in the retiring Chautemps cabinet, today received President Albert Lebrun's invitation to form a new government.

PARIS. (AP)—France's wave of strikes spread today as President Albert Lebrun sought a new premier to grapple with the grave social and monetary problems which forced the resignation of Camille Chautemps and his people's front government. Chautemps having declined the president's first invitation to form a new cabinet, the president summoned Leon Blum, socialist leader and former premier, to the Elysee Palace.

Whether Blum was offered the premiership or merely called for consultation was not immediately disclosed.

Edouard Dadiadrie, minister of national defense, leaving the president's palace after a two-hour conference, said he had declined Lebrun's invitation to form a cabinet.

LABOR STRIFE
The importance of the task I must accomplish at the war ministry did not permit me to accept the offer of the chief of state," said Dadiadrie.

The president worked against time in an effort to establish a new government before political passions aggravated the labor strife and the decline of the franc, which precipitated the crisis.

While he was consulting party leaders, street car and bus employees of Lille voted a general

BLAST VICTIMS RECOVERING

John R. Ragan and William Clement, Orange, were reported recovering today from effects of injuries received in an explosion at Coalinga yesterday.

The men received third degree burns and other injuries when a gas heater in the Buckley hotel exploded, blowing the front wall of the building into the street. Mrs. Barbara Buckley, hotel manager, was killed in the blast.

Mrs. Ragan, who rushed to Coalinga after news of the blast reached her, reported today that both men had received extensive burns on hands, forearms and feet, and that the hair had been singed from one side of their heads. They will be confined to the hospital for approximately a week.

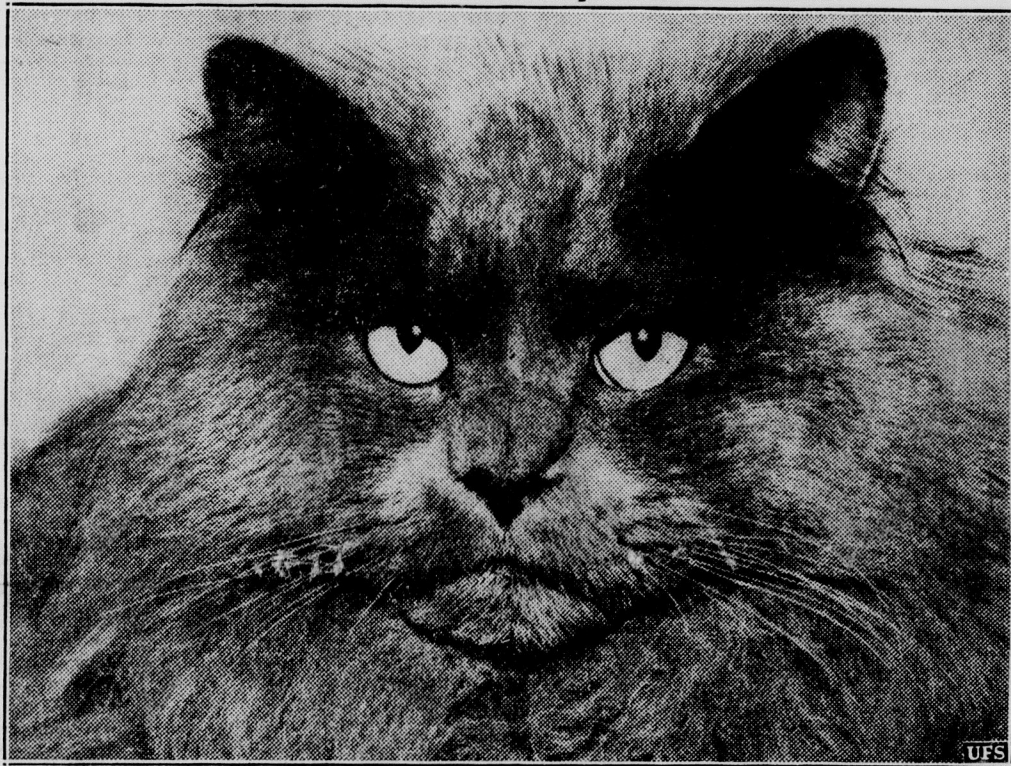

The wife and son of Clement also were in Coalinga today.

Insurance Head To Face Trial

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Alfred J. Hann, one of 14 officials of the old Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company facing mail fraud charges, announced through his attorney today he will waive removal and face trial in Phoenix, Ariz.

Others of the defendants have indicated they will fight removal at a hearing here Jan. 27 before David B. Head, United States commissioner. Lee A. Phillips, vice president of the company and one of those indicted, died a week ago.

Seeks Job in County Animal Act

This prize feline, who is known as "Dillinger" and has earned his name, was applying for a position today as courthouse mouster. "I see mention of bell wethers and petrels and bulls of the woods," he said, "and think the menagerie needs at least one good cat."

By BOB GUILD

Mr. Frank Buck, Nigeria, Africa, Dear Bring—em Back Alive: Expedition is nearing its end, and you once more will be looking for new wilds to conquer, may we earnestly ask your consideration of a junket into the wilderness at Sixth and Sycamore?

We have several specimens that might interest you and prove of value in the event you are continuing your collection.

There is a bellwether, absolutely untamed, that alternates with being a "bull of the woods," and if you heard him tell it, the goat, besides.

We have a fine little stormy petrel blown up here on the breeze from Laguna Beach, and in the same pen three woolly little lambs and one groundhog which is perpetually hiding from its own shadow.

Then down the hall you could find, and probably conquer, an assortment of, believe it or not, phantom wolves! They are elusive, mind you, but absolutely unparalleled specimens of a rare species.

As if this were not enough, we have an outstanding team of mules, asses and donkeys, mixed, several harmless elks, a lion or two, and a whole county full of assorted livestock just about to be led to the slaughter.

This is just an idea. As you know, you can lead livestock to slaughter, but you can't make 'em think.

Yours, etc.

West, Grand Jury Speed Animal Act

Supervisor N. E. West today was again the center of the current courthouse battle, as the grand jury once more probed his activities, and West himself assailed Assessor James Sleeper in a signed statement released to newspapers.

As West was accusing Sleeper of "untruthful statements and a comedy of errors" in connection with a blast from the assessor against the supervisor made two weeks ago.

Frank Andrews, Laguna Beach real estate man and former title company official, was called into the jury room, presumably in connection with the West quiz.

Court Reporter Cecil Slaback was on hand to record testimony. The jury recessed at noon after putting in a call for its auditor, who has made the annual check of books in county offices and whose report is included when the grand jury reports.

Reports that West was being discussed circulated widely, with the possibility that he might be called to answer more questions before the day was out. Jurors were to return to work after lunch.

West, storm center of courthouse wrangling during the past few months, had accused county officials of a "conspiracy" to discredit the salary ordinance and to keep fees which the ordinance provided should go to the county.

He became center of the jury's attention when he appeared to explain his charges after five officials had demanded the jury investigate his blast against them. West was questioned for more than two hours before Christmas and said he expected to talk with the jury again.

West's statement, entitled "Mr. Sleeper's Comedy of Errors," follows:

"In a statement by Mr. James Sleeper in your last Friday's paper in which numerous untruthful statements were made, the assessor signed himself as a graduate of Old Mother Earth. Mr. Sleeper may have graduated from Mother Earth but he still deals in dirt. Too bad he cannot stick to relevant facts and avoid harmful errors.

"The assessor would prefer, by ridicule, to cover up the abuses of the ring and the incompetency of his own office by ignoring real issues set forth by me in a recent statement. Unfortunately, he has started.

HOWARD ON JOB UNTIL TRIAL ACTION

Rumor Predicts More Indictments Here

The city council will cling to its "hands-off" policy in regard to the Floyd Howard scandal.

This was indicated today, as Mayor Fred C. Rowland said no official cognizance of this week's indictment by a federal grand jury of Howard and 12 others would be taken.

Rowland's statement precluded any possibility of the city's asking the grand jury action in regard to Howard, it was believed.

Howard has refused to step down pending his trial in federal court on charges of conspiracy to smuggle lottery tickets into this country in violation of customs laws.

Only two possibilities were open to council had it wished to force Howard's abdication, whether temporary or permanent. One would have been to request grand jury action, the other to seek a recall election. Neither will be invoked.

Reports today indicated that further indictments in the Santa Anita sweepstakes fraud was imminent. One said they could be expected next week, probably on Wednesday. Possibility was seen that other Orange county men might be involved in the federal clean-up.

In the meantime, four others of the 13 indicted were arrested yesterday in Los Angeles, and a fifth, C. W. Hutchings of Balboa, was expected to surrender at 2 p. m. today and post bail.

The four who surrendered to Dep. United States Marshall Frank L. Besser of Santa Ana, were Howard S. Atcheson, Henry W. McKague, Edward C. Hayes and Charles R. Ross. Warrants were served on them in the offices of their attorney, Joe Burke, in Los Angeles.

S. B. Kaufman, attorney for the defense, besides admitting that Hutchings would surrender today, had no further statement to make on the case.

Arraignment is set for 2 p. m. Monday in Federal Judge G. W. Cosgrove's court, Los Angeles, at which time the trial date will be set.

DUST STORMS MENACE CROPS

FORGAN, Okla. (AP)—Ominous clouds of dust, spring's greatest menace to growing crops, settled over the Southwest today, striking terror to the hearts of farmers just recovering from five years of drought.

Silt in the nation's dust bowl, dormant many months, stirred up yesterday in the teeth of a gale. Loose top soil, only protection for tender wheat stalks just protruding above ground, was whipped skyward.

Grizzled wheat growers in the Oklahoma Panhandle and on the dry plains of western Kansas looked on with growing anxiety. The black clouds blotted out the sun and cut visibility to 200 yards. The atmosphere had thinned early today, but a blanket of silt was deposited over parts of five states.

Chiefly responsible for the farmers' discomfort was the fact the dust storms were earlier than in previous years. In the bad drought years, the "black blizzards" normally held off until late February.

Justice Cardozo Makes Slight Gain

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Dr. John Paul Ernest, Jr., said today Supreme Court Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo, seriously ill with heart disease, had "held the improvement which he showed yesterday morning."

"The doctors found this a hopeful sign," he added.

'FIGHT FIRE WITH FIRE,' UNION UKASE

Citizens' Committee
Marches on Inquisitors

With both sides ready to fight, open labor war loomed in Orange county today.

A dozen ranchers and business men appeared before the grand jury to demand prosecution of labor "beef squads" and "order in Orange county."

The Orange county labor council threatened to deputize as many of its members as necessary, to "fight fire with fire."

The farm group, led by George Graham, representative of the Associated Farmers, first conferred with District Attorney W. F. Men-ton, then carried its demands into the grand jury.

LAKE PROBE ASKED
Vigorous prosecution of those responsible for the beating last Dec. 10 of Willard Lake, Santa Ana truck operator, was asked by the delegation, which also supported demands for five new deputy sheriffs.

Steve Davidson, president of the labor council, at virtually the same time made a statement to the grand jury in which he referred to reports of impending "boycott" of union firms, and threatened picket lines and a "counter-boycott" to protect the cause of labor. "If the Citizens' Committee," said Davidson, "wants to deputize 1000 men in Orange county to fight organized labor, we'll meet fire with fire. We'll go them one better. We'll deputize 2000 men from our membership of 15 or 20 thousand."

BOYCOTT RUMORED
Davidson said he had "heard" persons at a recent meeting had recommended a boycott against merchants throughout the county carrying union house cards. He said he believed the meeting was called by the citizens' committee. Graham, as spokesman for the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

YORTY ATTACKS 'POWER TRUST'

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Political circles buzzed today as a result of charges by Assemblyman Samuel W. Yorty that other Democrats in the state legislature voted according to the wishes of the "power trust."

Yorty aired his accusations at the Democratic Luncheon club's weekly meeting yesterday, asserting that Democratic assemblymen blocked a bill to prohibit public utilities from using revenues for political purposes.

He said the utilities spent $7,000,000 in politics, "subsidized practically every interest opposed to President Roosevelt," and included the money in the operating expenses on which their rates are based.

DOCTOR, NURSE ESCAPE DEATH

A Laguna Beach physician and his nurse today were recovering from a narrow escape from death yesterday afternoon.

Marguerite Daugherty, nurse for Dr. A. H. Wightman, accidentally touched a live wire on an X-ray machine, it was reported, and was knocked down by the current. Dr. Wightman, when lifting her from the floor, touched the wire with his hand and was knocked unconscious, according to reports.

The Laguna Beach fire department's rescue squad revived Dr. Wightman. The nurse suffered a sprained ankle.

Benjamin Kraemer Estate $165,075

Benjamin Kraemer, member of a pioneer Orange county ranching family, left property worth $165,075.93, when he died last Sept. 7, according to an inventory filed today in superior court.

Included in the inventory was real estate appraised at approximately $114,000, a commercial account in an Anaheim bank of $15,688.21, promissory notes, and a share in the estate of his brother, Samuel Kraemer, valued at $4880.

NEW TAX REVISION PLAN TO STIMULATE NATION'S BUSINESS

REVISIONS URGED BY HOUSE GROUP

Undistributed Profits Measure Attacked

WASHINGTON. (AP)—A subcommittee submitted to the house ways and means committee today a tax revision program which it contended would provide a "very substantial stimulation to business."

The major recommendations were for broad revision of the undistributed profits and capital gains taxes, target of many complaints from business interests.

In the main, the report covered proposals which had been announced as the subcommittee had proceeded with its task.

STABILIZATION
The 91-page report said the subcommittee's plan would tend to stabilize revenue and maintain substantially the present volume of tax receipts.

In a letter transmitting the program to the full committee, Subcommittee Chairman Vinson (D., Ky.) asserted:

"The subcommittee has considered the whole field of internal revenue taxation in the hope of recommending such improvements therein as will improve the equity and certainty of existing law, remove hardships and encourage business activity."

PRINCIPLE SOUND
The report said the subcommittee believed the principle of the tax on undistributed corporate profits "is sound and should be retained," but that it should be "substantially modified" with particular reference to small corporations.

While recommending modifications, the report contended complaints about hardships inflicted by the levy had been exaggerated.

It said, too, the severity of the present corporate tax system "has often been overstated."

RECOMMENDATIONS
The subcommittee suggested corporations with incomes of $25,000 or less pay no undistributed profits tax, and that their normal income tax range from 12.5 to 16 per cent. Larger firms would pay a 16 to 20 per cent rate, with the rate going up as retention of profits increased.

An intermediate group would pay rates ranging from 14.1 to 16 per cent for corporations distributing all their profits to 14.1 to 20 for those distributing no profits. The 14.1 is the highest effective tax proposed for a corporation with income of $25,000, since the 12.5 rate would apply to the first $5,000 of income, the 14 rate to the next $15,000 and 16 to the last $5,000.

All corporations now pay a normal income tax of 8 to 15 per cent, plus a surtax of 7 to 27 per cent on undistributed profits.

PROBE OF LAKE CASE ASKED

employers' group which went before the grand jury, asserted:

"We are for a square deal all around. That means that we maintain the right to peacefully pursue our daily affairs without interference from individuals or organizations. It means that we claim the right to freedom of the highways. It means the right to move our crops without threats to our lives and property. It means, in brief, public order and public safety, the first responsibility of government."

"We ask of government both the means and the disposition to maintain order. That is why we are interested in the Lake case. That is why we are here. We came as friends of government and as interested citizens to give our support to the men and women who are studying these problems."

Radical Won't Talk; Faces Term in Jail

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Held in contempt for refusing to answer questions of federal immigration officers, Marcus Graham, alleged radical, faced sentence in federal court here today.

Immigration officers said they sought to deport Graham but they were able to prove in what country he was born, and that he had refused to disclose the land of his birth.

shipping time, was another consideration. So when I suggested the estimate be made on conditions at the close of business of such and such a date he consented. Rockefeller is an experienced and successful orange grower. The reason I wanted his estimate was that he is seldom out of line. As an evidence of my appreciation I'll go out to Tustin the 28th and help him eat a turkey dinner.

The Old Philosopher drifted in today. Shoulders sagged a little more than usual, not quite so much buoyancy in his step, eye had less sparkle in it; there was evidence of dejection. Said he had a heart attack and it wasn't his fault. Often it isn't your own fault if you are depressed, if the going gets rough and your spirits go into a tail-spin. Sometimes a good friend can take the joy out of life, or those more immediately attached project into the current an unexpected sorrow.

Shakespeare had rather a broad insight into human affairs. His characters revealed faith shaken and faith approved. Courts render judgments, but you can't prevent "one man's opinion" from becoming many men's opinion. I'm inclined to the more charitable viewpoint.

DODD'S TALK IRKS GERMANS

ner tendered him by about 200 personal friends at the Waldorf Astoria hotel.

The bulk of the address was devoted to a scathing denunciation of the national socialist regime in Germany under Hitler.

Dodd described Hitler as having power "more absolute than any medieval emperor of Germany," and warned that civilization would be in grave danger unless Germany, Italy and Japan were checked by the democracies of the world.

A historian and university professor, Dodd resigned last month from the post he had held in Berlin since 1933 because of his disagreement with Hitler's policies.

President Roosevelt has appointed Hugh Wilson, now assistant secretary of state, to succeed him.

DODD HITS HITLER AS 'GREATEST KILLER'

NEW YORK. (AP)—Western civilization is in grave danger unless Germany, Italy and Japan are checked by the democracies, says William E. Dodd, former ambassador to Germany.

Speaking at a testimonial dinner given by 200 friends last night, the 68-year-old diplomat, who recently resigned as ambassador to Germany because of disagreement with Adolf Hitler's Nazi policies, dealt scathing blows at the Hitler regime.

"Mankind is in grave danger, but the Democratic governments seem not to know what to do," said Dodd.

FRENCH WARN JAPANESE BOMBERS

SAIGON, French Indo-China. (AP)—A recent Japanese air raid on the Chinese island of Hainan, facing French Indo-China across the narrow gulf of Tongking, provoked a warning by the French military commander of this colony's garrison today against any incursion on French soil.

"Our forces are capable of kicking out anyone who attempts to invade Indo-China, no matter from where he comes," declared General Jules Buhier.

His declaration followed by a few hours the arrival here of three cruisers, the Gloire, Montcalm and Georges Leygues, to reinforce French naval forces in Asiatic waters.

The possibility of a Japanese occupation of Hainan for some time has been a delicate question in Franco-Japanese relations. Several towns on the island were bombed in the latest Japanese raid, Jan. 12, but little damage was reported.

KAI-SHEK GIVES 'PEP TALK' TO ARMIES

HONGKONG. (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's tour of the Central China war front, it was disclosed today, was undertaken to stiffen the morale of retreating Chinese troops and to make his generals work together.

The generalissimo was pictured as trying to obtain some measure of cooperation among commanders now operating independently and with little effective resistance against advancing Japanese.

One of the retreating generals—Han Fu-chu, governor of Shantung province—abandoned Shantung with an army of 150,000 virtually intact. Chinese sources said Chiang arrested General Han yesterday.

In recent government reorganization Chiang was granted new powers over China's military and civil life. If his attempt to coordinate the command and bolster morale should fail, Hankow, one of the temporary capitals, would be in danger of falling into Japanese hands.

seeks to answer unpleasant facts by an effort to be funny.

"Frankly, I prefer to stick to issues of public concern. But since Mr. Sleeper has studiously avoided doing so and has made several erroneous statements I shall answer these and the irrelevant issues to show that he and the ring have indeed no defense for the actual conditions that exist in our county government. After this however, I shall ignore most certainly wreck the governments and people of our time."

He offered no solution, but said "the United States are as much to blame as any other country." This country's responsibility, he said, lay in the "serious blunder" of the "refusal of the senate to adopt the league idea."

Dodd described Hitler as "now more absolute than any medieval emperor of Germany," and said that in Germany under Hitler "almost as many personal opponents were killed in five years as Charles II (King of England) executed in 20 years of the 17th century."

Under the Italian-German-Japanese pact, Dodd said, "China is to be conquered and American-English interests in the Far East to be absorbed."

"If the Japanese succeed (in conquest of China), Russia will be surrounded and compelled to unite with the European Fascists or start another great war," he said.

Lamb Curry Brings Grief to Cook, Customer

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Like everybody else, Tom Huth, restaurant keeper, has debtors who don't pay their bills. He had Carlo Mozzucoli into court yesterday on a charge of defrauding an innkeeper.

Mozzucoli, 45, had eaten lamb curry and rice. The bill was 16 cents. He only had 11 cents.

Judge Twain Michelson looked sternly when he heard the sum involved, delivered a lecture on wasting the court's time, and said, "Case dismissed."

bank support itself, especially with federal supervision and deposit insurance?

He referred to his Jackson day dinner speech and reiterated that owners of $600,000,000 of private power securities were controlling a total of $13,000,000,000 of utility capital. That just can't go on, he said.

He likened this to a 96-inch dog being wagged by a four-inch tail and when asked if his idea was to dock the dog's tail he said he preferred to say it was cutting the muscle of the tail.

ROOSEVELT CALLS BUSINESS PARLEY

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Six leaders in industry, finance and labor were called to the White House for a conference with President Roosevelt today on cooperative means of attacking the business slump.

They were Owen D. Young, chairman of the General Electric company; Thomas W. Lamont, partner of J. P. Morgan; John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organization; Charles W. Taussig, Rexford G. Tugwell, and A. A. Berle.

These two formerly were connected with the administration as incompetent and irrelevant statements.

"Mr. Sleeper wants to know why it has taken three years to learn about the ring. It has not; it has merely taken a year to get a majority of the board of supervisors to do something about it."

"It was hoped that the reference to the 'Boss' of the supervisors would create discord amongst board members which is the first step toward their removal."

Mr. Sleeper says I only increased the county budget $418,000 in one year. Another unfair charge and misstatement of fact by the assessor. For the most part I agree and argued for smaller departmental budgets than were approved. Practically all the increase of this year's budget was due to the liberalized Old Age pension law. Apparently Mr. Sleeper would have had the board ignore this law, and have the old people of this county deprived of its benefits.

"Speaking of budgets, Mr. Sleeper's own budget request showed no concern for tax reduction."

"A joy ride and a car wreck which cost the county about $800 is mentioned. Chalk up two more misstatements to Mr. Sleeper. The trip to San Francisco was for an important meeting with WPA officials for the purpose of determining the county's right to run its own WPA projects. This was necessary to correct apparent efforts to sabotage certain WPA projects by those responsible for getting only 60 per cent of a large project completed with the money set up to do the job."

"The car accident near Bakersfield made the plane trip necessary to get in San Francisco before noon Saturday. The cost of the entire trip, including damage to car was less than half of the $800 as stated by Mr. Sleeper."

"The assessor asked why I was in a hurry to buy a $2214.25 piece of machinery without calling for bids, and then got cold feet and asked the board to make the purchase as an emergency measure. Again—chalk up two statements against Mr. Sleeper as utterly untrue. I never bought such machinery with or without bids and never asked the supervisors to make such purchase an emergency measure."

Mr. Sleeper wants to know who got the rake-off and states the phantom ring did not. The bellwether of the ring ought to know. The shovel referred to was for use in Mr. Willard Smith's district and needed for emergency work as result of the flood. Bids were asked for five bids were received and the shovel purchased from the lowest bidder. Mr. Sleeper should look at the record."

"I have consistently opposed huddles as practiced for years by the board of supervisors—that is adjournment to the conference room during regular session for discussion and action on business already before the board. I have never objected to discussing problems in conference when the board was not in session nor to meeting with a group or an individual in conference to discuss matters later to come before the regular session of the board."

"The assessor seems to think he should have a medal because the taxpayers have paid several millions of dollars through his office during the last 24 years. He then injects the management of The Yoch company into his statement. While this is an irrelevant matter, I may state for his ben-

PAUL WRIGHT LOVE TRIAL CONTINUES

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Questions asked of 12 prospective jurors in the murder trial of Paul A. Wright indicated today that the prosecution will be prepared to fight for conviction of the 38-year-old aviation executive against a defense relying upon the "unwritten law."

Although no statement has come from the defense as to its plan, the prosecution made it plain in its questioning that it expects a motive of avenging injury to family honor in the slayings of Wright's wife and his "best friend," John Kimmel, to be offered.

Four women and eight men—all but two middle-aged-were in the jury box, having been accepted by the defense "for cause." The prosecution has yet to finish its questioning, and all 12 are subject to peremptory challenge.

The jury is not expected to be completed before Monday, since there was no morning session of court today. There also will be no Saturday session.

STRIKE VOTED
Metal workers at Lille already had voted to demand higher wages. Other strikes or labor disputes are in progress in Paris suburbs, Nimes, Valenciennes and the Metz region.

To cope with the fall of the franc—which yesterday reached 30.20 to the dollar in unofficial sales—the Bank of France ordered all dealings in foreign currencies suspended "until further notice."

However, retiring Finance Minister Georges Bonnet, who, like the other ministers, remained in office pending formation of the new cabinet, permitted The Bourse, or stock exchange, to open as usual.

CHAUTEAUX QUILTS
Chauteaux resigned early today after a bitter verbal exchange with his Communist allies in the chamber of deputies and after Socialist members of his cabinet had withdrawn. His own Radical-Socialist party, the Socialists and Communists together formed his People's Front support.

Signs the breach in the People's Front might be healed developed today. The executive committee of the Communist party published a statement called on Communists, Socialists and Radical-Socialists to reunite and create a new people's front government. The statement said: "This now is more than ever necessary."

EXPLAINS REFUSAL
But Chauteaux, explaining his refusal of Lebrun's invitation to head a new cabinet, said:

"I feel the incidents of last night are too recent and would seriously hamper my task."

The ban on foreign exchange dealings prevented even tourists from changing money.

Jules Jaenney, aged president of the senate, addressing that body this afternoon, pleaded for continuation of democratic government.

"Now as ever is France democratic," he declared. "May public malediction strike down any who think in terms of civil war."

effit that only Mr. Sleeper himself and one other ex-member of his political ring have ever questioned my management of this company in any particular. The president, directors and stockholders have made no complaint of my management but have annually elected me manager of the company for 17 years. The Yoch company and myself during this period, and under Mr. Sleeper's assessments, have paid into the county of Orange taxes and assessments approximately $100,000. And during Mr. Sleeper's 20 odd years in office he has received high on to $100,000 in salary. With another 20 years of such government as Mr. Sleeper's ring has furnished the taxpayers of Orange county, The Yoch company and I may have more difficulty in raising another $100,000.

The assessor's condemnation of the supervisors over the Eden Oil's water contract, his effort in behalf of the Standard Oil steal of the Huntington Beach oil field, his refusal to cooperate with the auditor's department, costing the county an estimated $6000 a year and the improper payment, by the auditor to the assessor, of over $4000 over a period of years, for alleged mileage, which has never been itemized nor approved by the board of supervisors—these are facts and issues that Mr. Sleeper should not try to dodge. They cannot be met however by the invention of fictitious yarns and the introduction of irrelevant matters. Efforts to frighten or intimidate officials from doing their duty has worked too often in the past but with me such methods are worse than wasted. One below from the bull of the woods is expected to silence all opposition. Too long the recipients of public favors and privileges, the ring has grown arrogant and its conscience toward the taxpayer has become callous.

DEATH ADDS TO YEAR'S TRAFFIC TOLL

Violent death struck its sixth blow of the year in Orange county traffic early today as Mrs. Anna Taylor, 60, prominent Midway City woman, succumbed to injuries received in a crash at Midway City last Sunday.

The injuries resulted from a collision involving a car driven by her husband, W. H. Taylor, 74, who is confined to St. Joseph's hospital with critical injuries, and R. A. Ross, Midway City, also injured by the impact. The accident occurred at the corner of Hazard and Cannery avenues in Midway City.

Plans for an inquest into the death were held up pending funeral arrangements being made by Mrs. Taylor's relatives.

A coroner's jury inquiring into the death Monday of Josephine Sabala, 19-year-old Atwood girl, meanwhile, referred the case to the district attorney's office for further investigation. The jury brought in a verdict at yesterday's inquest saying it was "unable to fix criminal responsibility."

The Sabala girl was killed while walking across an Atwood street when Clarence Housel, 54, Atwood, struck her and her sister, Tillie, 17, with a water company truck. Housel said he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car. Tillie Sabala was seriously but not critically injured in the accident.

Preliminary hearing of Albert Lynn, 39, Hawthorne, meanwhile, was set for Jan. 20 at an arraignment yesterday on charges of attempting to burglarize Police Patrolman Richard Bradley's house, 925 Cypress street. Bail was set at $3000.

"RELIEF CHISELING" TEST CASE WON BY COUNTY

MAN GUILTY OF VIOLATING WELFARE LAW

Reynolds Convicted By Jury in Second Trial

Legal leverage with which the county welfare department can secure accurate information from prospective relief clients under penalty of criminal prosecution had been strengthened today as the result of a significant "test case" in Santa Ana justice court.

Ulysses Reynolds, 70-year-old La Habra carpenter, was found guilty yesterday on all five counts of "relief chiseling," in what was believed to be the first case of its kind in the state.

In convicting him of failing to report more than $1200 in extra income, the verdict of a jury of five men and seven women upheld a section of the new state welfare and institutions code which requires relief recipients to report any change in their financial condition while they are receiving state funds.

"The verdict may be a big help to the welfare department," Deputy District Attorney J. E. Walker, who prosecuted the case, declared today. "It gives the department legal leverage through which it may be able to get better cooperation from prospective clients, who now will be aware that failure to report extra receipts is a criminal offense."

The law under which Reynolds was prosecuted is Section 2222 of the new welfare code, which consolidates all state laws pertaining to welfare. Essentially the same provision was included under the general statutes before the new code was adopted last spring.

Reynolds will appear for sentence by Judge Kenneth E. Morrison at 9 a. m. tomorrow. He was represented during two trials (a jury at the first trial failed to agree) by Senator Harry Westover.

THIEVES LOOT ACCIDENT CAR

Fair play was thrown to the winds by a thief who stole five wire wheels and tires from a car parked all week in a Midway City service station.

The car was wrecked in a collision with an auto driven by R. A. Ross of Midway City last Sunday. Since then, the car's driver, W. H. Taylor, 74, Midway City, has been lying in St. Joseph's hospital, critically injured. His wife died this morning of injuries received.

Deputy sheriffs, determined to get this particular thief, believe theft of two tires from G. H. Epps' car at First and Cannery streets was committed by the same person.

Peace Officers in War on Vagrants

"Undeclared war" had been launched against vagrancy today. Five men were booked at county jail on vagrancy counts, but police in Orange and Placentia, who made the arrests, said it was just opened and that they had not opened any particular drive on wanderers.

Those booked: Ora L. Speak, 22, Virginia, and Luther Stice, 32, Oklahoma, by Placentia police; Sam Lammie, 46, transient, Leo A. Badie, 58, Gardena, and William Carr, 21, transient by Orange police.

Suit Filed Over Grain Business

Asking a court order compelling payment of $2800 for a grain feed business in Chino, Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Cour filed suit in superior court today against Forrest L. and Don R. Almquist.

The Cour's, in a suit for specific performance of a contract, alleged that the Almquists took the business over last August on a lease business, with an option to buy it later. By December, the complaint continues, the defendants decided to buy the business, but have not paid the $2800 purchase price, assertedly agreed upon.

Tramp Turns Out To Be Burglar

The man who came to her back door Tuesday was just a tramp, thought Mary Wright, Irvine ranch. He finally went away.

Yesterday, however, she discovered two dresses were missing, remembered they had been on the back porch when the tramp was there Tuesday.

The innocuous tramp now has become a much-sought burglary suspect.

Making World Happier

By DALE CARNEGIE

You have it easily in your power to increase the sum total of this world's happiness now. How? By giving a few words of sincere appreciation to someone who is lonely or discouraged. Perhaps you will forget tomorrow the kind words you say today, but the recipient may cherish them over a lifetime. For example, take the case of John Henry Newman. Newman broke with the high church of England—became a Catholic and, later, a Cardinal.

During the period of transition from the Church of England to the Catholic church, his old friends broke with him, and his new friends in the Catholic church did not receive him cordially. He was a desperately lonely man.

One day, returning from his pastoral calls, he found on his doorstep a package with his name on it. It contained a handkerchief and an anonymous letter expressing admiration, friendship and sympathy.

Years later, Newman was regarded as a most brilliant man, and one of the world's greatest thinkers; and when he was made a Cardinal the announcement was received with tremendous applause throughout the English-speaking world.

He died in 1890, and his dying request was that there should be placed around his neck the handkerchief that he had treasured for nearly 50 years. That little gift, and the letter that came with it, had meant far more to him than the donor could possibly have foreseen.

I have just been reading a lot about color. It is a fascinating subject, and scientists have discovered that it has a marked effect on our lives. Moving picture magnates are gleeful over what they can do with the emotions of their audience by making a film in color. Flash a colored travel picture on the screen and hear the audience "ah" in satisfaction.

Jean Picard, I am informed, made his first flight into the stratosphere in a gondola, painted black. He was uncomfortably hot within his ship although the temperature outside was more than seventy degrees below zero. On his next trip, he experimented and painted his gondola white. And he shivered in a temperature below the freezing point.

The United States army has made a careful study to learn how the color of a man's clothes will effect him. They have found that black absorbs heat faster than white or colors, and that white will deflect heat more readily. But if you are nervous, or a blonde, look out for white. Although it deflects the sun, it will absorb its rays to the point of exhaustion for nervous blondes. I love colorful clothes. I regret that custom demands that I wear suits of somber hues; but when I crawl into bed at night, I wear pajamas of flaming red or canary yellow.

A chauffeur knows HOW; the engineer who built the car knows WHY.

LEGG URGES LAWS TO AID MIDDLE-AGED

SACRAMENTO. (P)—Legislation to foster employment in government jobs of men and women between 40 and 60 years of age is urged by Legg, supervisor Herbert C. Legg of Los Angeles told the assembly interim committee on social welfare today.

Legg, who is a Democratic candidate for governor, declared that both men and women between these ages are "every bit as efficient as people of a lower age" but that they are discriminated against both as to government service and by private industry. The committee finished its investigation into housing facilities and made its report to Gov. Frank F. Merriam urging the need of including enabling legislation for participation in the federal slum clearance program, at the coming special session of the legislature.

COTTON KILLER DIES BY GAS

STATE PRISON, Florence, Ariz. (P)—Elvin Jack Odom, 28 years old, of Corsicana, Tex., confessed murderer of a fellow-farm worker, died in the Arizona lethal gas chamber before dawn today after muttering a condemnation of the justice that decreed his fate.

Odom, who killed Charles E. Goode, 55, last Oct. 13 during a robbery which netted him only 54 cents, showed no emotion as he entered the chamber and breathed the deadly fumes.

Goode's body, his skull split by a blow with a blunt instrument, was found in his cotton wagon. He had boasted, fellow-cotton pickers told officers, of having $1500 and Odom confessed he committed murder while attempting to rob him. He insisted, however, he obtained only 54 cents.

Famous Legend Of Robber Baron Upheld

BUDAPEST. (American Wire)—The century-old legend concerning the Baron Nopsca, who found being one of the richest aristocrats in Transylvania too dull, so robbed his neighbors of money and jewels, disguised in a black silk mask, has been substantiated with the discovery in the Deva mountains of a suit of armor and a bundle of the black silk masks, it was learned here today. The find was made by a peasant in a disused gold mine.

At Baron Nopsca's great dinners, according to the now verified legend, an aristocratic lady often lifted a fork or a spoon with exclamations on its resemblance to her own plate, while the bland host listened interestedly, examining the handle from which he had deftly erased the owner's monograms. His story was told by Jokai, the Hungarian Dickens, in a novel called "The Poor Rich."

The last Baron Nopsca, who was director of the Hungarian Geological institution and member of many foreign institutions, committed suicide in Vienna in 1933.

All stray chickens, ducks and geese are to be taken into custody and released only on payment of a fine of six cents a bird, according to an order issued by the mayor of a village in the Rhineland.

JUDGE SOLVES DIVORCE TANGLE

LOS ANGELES. (P)—Getting a divorce from a person to whom one is not married is impossible, so the marital status of Audrey Oliver Foster was a muddle today.

Superior Judge Charles S. Brunell denied her plea for a divorce, holding that her Mexican marriage to Earl Foster, a printer was not legal.

Mrs. Foster said she and Foster were married in Tijuana, Mexico, 10 years ago. They have a 4-year-old son. Judge Brunell held that the Fosters had not complied with Mexican marriage requirements.

The court's ruling differed from a decision rendered last summer by Superior Judge Charles E. Haas who decided that the Mexican marriage of Constance Worth, screen actress, to George Brent, actor, was valid since they had met marriage requirements of that country. Miss Worth subsequently obtained a divorce.

Recession Hits Portland Music

PORTLAND, Ore. (P)—The business recession, accentuated locally by prolonged labor strife, struck musical requirements of that country. Miss Worth subsequently obtained a divorce.

Directors of the Portland Symphony society announced the organization would withdraw its sponsorship of the Portland symphony orchestra, probably for two years, to wipe out a deficit accumulated during the past six seasons.

Wife Refuses to Buy Plane for Hubby; He Quits

SAN JOSE. (P)—When Mrs. Alma McKee of Palo Alto refused to buy an airplane for her aviation mechanic husband, Donald McKee, shortly after their Reno wedding last Nov. 19, McKee called their marriage "a mistake."

Mrs. McKee charged in a divorce complaint filed here. They separated Dec. 27, the complaint said.

DRIVER, BODY SOUGHT BY COPS

SAN BERNARDINO. (P)—Confronted by a strange mystery, peace officers searched today for a body and a speeding motorist.

The motorist ran down a man walking along the highway 20 miles northwest of Parker dam yesterday and sped on with the body wedged inside a front fender. The driver outdistanced pursuers and disappeared.

Neither the identity of the driver nor the victim was known.

Constable S. B. Starr of Vidal informed Sheriff Emmett Shaw here last night that witnesses reported the automobile was traveling about 70 miles an hour when it struck the man.

PASSENGERS ATTACKED IN SHIP PROBE

SAN FRANCISCO. (P)—Passengers were more under the influence of liquor than were crew members of the Dollar liner President Hoover after the ship went aground at Hoishoto island, in Japanese waters, last Dec. 10, witnesses told a federal marine investigating board.

The board expected to finish its San Francisco hearing today after which it will go to Seattle, Wash., to question Capt. George Yardley and other of the ship's personnel.

Miss Frances Joaquin, nurse-stewardess, and Miss Muriel Davidson, children's nurse on the Hoover, were among the witnesses who testified yesterday denying informal accusations that some members of the crew had been intoxicated and troublesome after the passengers were landed on the island.

Miss Davidson said "a few" passengers were "so drunk as to be obnoxious."

Miss Davidson said more of the passengers complained after they were rescued, that they had no silver knives and forks or china dishes from which to eat.

FIREMEN FIGHT SHIP BLAZE

OAKLAND. (P)—Firemen wearing smoke helmets and working in relays of four controlled flames that threatened to consume the lumber schooner Alvarado in dock here yesterday.

Heavy drums of kerosene were in the path of the flames and could not be moved. The blaze started in the engine room of the vessel and only four firemen at a time could reach the smoke-filled room. F. J. Sandy, battalion chief, said had his men not been successful in keeping the flames from reaching the kerosene, there probably would have been an explosion and the fire would have spread to lumber on the dock.

The schooner is owned by the Moore Steamship company of Bandon, Ore.

MOCOW. (P)—The death of Capt. Nikolai Evdokimoff, claimant of the world's record for high parachute jumps—7900 meters (25,918 feet)—was announced today. It was not indicated whether he died in a fall. Evdokimoff was credited with having made 324 leaps.

SENATE TO PROBE WIRE TAPPING

WASHINGTON. (P)—A senate committee decided today to inquire into "wire tapping" at the interior department.

The decision was made in connection with the committee's consideration of the nomination of E. K. Burlew to be first assistant secretary of the department.

At the insistence of Senator Steiwer (R., Ore.) the public lands committee agreed to call Louis R. Glavis, former chief interior department investigator, to testify about the wire tapping.

"I insist," Steiwer said, "that we get full light on whether Mr. Burlew had any connection with wire tapping and other spying in the department, such as he has testified went on."

When the committee resumed today its study of Burlew's qualifications, Senator Pittman (D., Nev.) reopened a discussion of a CCC camp fraud about which Burlew previously testified. Burlew denied any responsibility in connection with the defrauding of the government of about $75,000 by Reno Stille, a former national park service pay clerk who recently pleaded guilty in federal court here to forging CCC vouchers.

SAILOR GUILTY IN KIDNAPING

OLYMPIA, Wash. (P)—Maurice Larius, 26, former boxer and sailor, today awaited sentence on a charge of first degree kidnaping, which carries a penalty of death or life imprisonment.

A superior court jury which returned the first conviction under the state's 1933 "Lindbergh kidnap law," recommended against the death penalty. Larius' attorneys said the case would be appealed to the state supreme court, and date for sentence was not set. Larius was tried on a charge of abducting Arlington C. Jones, crippled driver, and forcing him to drive toward Portland on Oct. 28, 1936. He has a wife and two children living with his wife's mother, Mrs. Marvel Little, in Oakland, Calif. He said his mother, Mrs. C. C. Murray and his father, Lieut. Commander D. A. Larios, U. S. navy, retired, reside in Bakersfield, Calif.

DO COW-PUNCHERS APPRECIATE CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCO?

TED YOCHUM was born and raised in the cattle country. Speaking from personal observation, Ted says: "Cow-punchers are great Camel smokers. Seems like if a man smokes Camels once—he sticks to 'em. Come round-up time—I'm in the saddle for hours, and not sparin' myself. A Camel sure hits the spot then. I get a mighty pleasant 'lift.'"

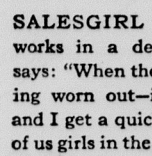

Yes, and to America at large, Camel's costlier tobaccos have such a special appeal that they are the largest-selling cigarette in this country!

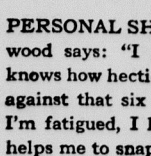

AUTO MECHANIC Al Patterson says: "In the garage business you have to catch your meals on the run. I find that Camels seem to smooth the way for good digestion. The Mrs. smokes Camels too."

CHIEF SIGNALMAN John Geraghty: "You don't have to be a railroad man to know that speed and safety—our watchwords—call for healthy nerves. I smoke plenty. Camels don't jangle my nerves."

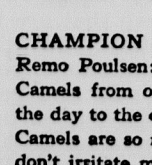

SALESGIRL Elsie Schumacher works in a department store. She says: "When the rush gets me to feeling worn out—it's me for a Camel, and I get a quick 'lift.' Practically all of us girls in the store prefer Camels."

PERSONAL SHOPPER Irene Sherwood says: "I guess every woman knows how hectic shopping is. I'm up against that six days a week. When I'm fatigued, I light up a Camel. It helps me to snap back."

PHARMACIST J. E. Bayus says: "I get in a lot of Camel smoking. And when I say I never tire of Camel's taste—it's experience talking."

CHAMPION TYPIST Remo Poulsen: "I enjoy Camels from one end of the day to the other. And Camels are so mild, they don't irritate my throat."

'FIGHTING' CRAFT FOR NAVY SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Charles Edison, assistant secretary of the navy, said today the supplemental navy building program to be recommended by President Roosevelt would most likely include "fighting" as well as auxiliary ships.

Edison discussed the question with the President at a White House luncheon. He refused to discuss details of the program but did say it would be designed to give the navy a "proper balance."

He said the fleet was out of balance at present because of a shortage of auxiliary or service ships.

U. S. SEEKS EXPLANATION OF MYSTERY

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Secretary Hull asked Soviet Ambassador Alexander Troyanovsky today why the Soviet government has not replied to an American note requesting information on the reported arrest in Moscow of Mrs. Ruth Alma Rubens, an American woman.

The secretary of state said he "invited" Troyanovsky to the state department to discuss the case but declined to reveal any details of the conversation.

The American note was presented to the Soviet foreign office Jan. 7. It requested information concerning the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Rubens—whether she had been arrested by Soviet authorities, and if so, the nature of the charges against her.

Mrs. Rubens has been identified by Americans in Moscow, through her passport photograph, as the woman who disappeared in the Soviet capital on Dec. 9 under the name of "Mrs. Donald L. Robinson."

The American embassy in Moscow made repeated oral inquiries at the Soviet foreign office before presenting in formal note.

So far, Soviet officials, including Maxim Litvinoff, the Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, have ignored this government's request for information.

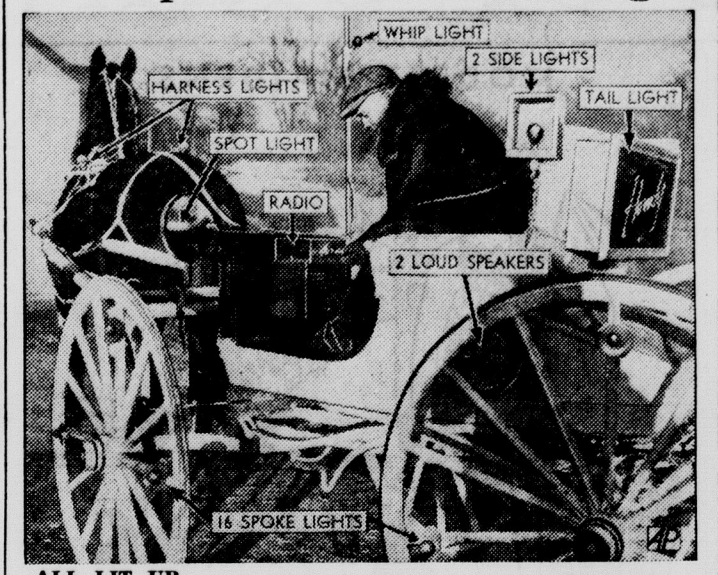

FORD TURNS DOWN UNION PEACE PLAN

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Because it could not promise to engage any additional men in the immediate future, the Ford Motor company rejected today a proposal to settle a strike called by the CIO United Automobile workers at its St. Louis assembly plant.

The peace suggestion, made by Tilford E. Dudley, trial examiner of the National Labor Relations board, proposed the company hire 187 plant members and that the union, in turn, end picketing of the plant and drop charges the company discriminated against the men. Dudley's hearing of unfair labor charges against the company was resumed after the Ford statement was read. It contained a denial the company had refused to bargain collectively with the CIO union.

GOLD IMPORT MARK SET IN PAST YEAR

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The United States imported $1,631,523,000 worth of gold in 1937.

The commerce department said today this total was the largest since 1935 when $1,740,979,000 was brought here. The United States now owns more than half of all the gold held by governments and central banks.

Last year also saw a resumption of gold exports. A total of $46,020,000 was exported, mostly to France. This figure was the largest since 1934.

Silver imports declined last year to $31,877,000, the lowest total since 1933. This figure compared with $182,816,000 in 1936 and $354,531,000 in 1935. Exports of the white metal totaled only $4,542,000.

REOPEN L. A. MEXICO FIGHT

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—Old verbal battles between Police Captain Pedro Delgado of Los Angeles and Mexican officialdom flared anew today after a member of the chamber of deputies said he would protest Delgado's presence here as guest of the government.

In 1936, Ricardo G. Hill, formerly Mexican consul at Los Angeles, said Cap. Delgado insulted and tried to hit him. The quarrel started over Delgado's alleged refusal to let the Mexico City police band play in a Los Angeles municipal park.

The police officer is here with other officers to engage in pistol and rifle matches. Hill, now representing the State of Sonora in the chamber of deputies, said he would ask the permanent commission of congress to take steps to have Delgado leave, if the officer has not already departed before the commission meets again.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A young mother and her 2½-year-old baby girl were dead after suffocation here after a rooming house fire poured smoke through their third floor sleeping quarters.

Mrs. Annie Klein, 29, died yesterday, two hours after she was carried from the burning building. The child, Annie, suffocated in the fire.

An infant son, John; twin daughters, Marjory and Mary, 5, and their father, Peter Klein, were reported recovering in hospitals.

SHANGHAI, (AP)—United States naval authorities announced today that efforts to salvage the American gunboat Panay, sunk by Japanese bombs in the Yangtze river Dec. 12, had been abandoned after the ship's safe and official papers had been recovered.

A salvage crew taken by the gunboat Oahu to the point above Nanking where the Panay went down announced the gunboat was damaged beyond repair and her hull was abandoned.

Mark Twain Memorial Is 'Mark Twain' High

ELMIRA, N. Y. (AP)—A monument to Mark Twain, author, and to Ossip Gabrilowitsch, orchestra leader, has been erected in Woodlawn cemetery by Mrs. Clara Clemens Gabrilowitsch, granddaughter and wife, respectively, of the two men.

The monument, a five and one-half foot shaft of granite, is 12 feet high — or two fathoms — a measure which Mississippi rivermen termed "mark twain" and from which Samuel L. Clemens took his pen name.

Slight Alteration Saves Airline $10,000 Year

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—How a trifling change in an airplane's design may mean money was illustrated on the Northwest airlines.

Technicians got the idea of placing the loop antenna, essential to the radio compass, inside the nose of the plane instead of over or under the fuselage. The planes gained 2 miles an hour.

Translated into money, this means a $10,000 saving annually.

30,000 BOOKS LOANED BY MESA LIBRARY

COSTA MESA.—More than 30,000 loans were made by the Costa Mesa branch library during the year 1937, according to a report made this week by Miss Sarah Conant, librarian. Of this number 14,755 were fiction, 6223 non-fiction, 4529 juvenile, 4513 periodicals and 28 pamphlets.

A check of the year's loans showed the most popular types of non-fiction, in the order of their popularity, to be literature, biography, travel and fine arts, she said. In the fiction division Margaret Mitchell's prize novel, "Gone With the Wind," was by far the most popular, the library having been unable at any time during the year to fill the demand for the book.

CURT DAWSON, Merrie's cousin, visiting from New York City.

On her wedding day, with the church filled with the minister waiting, Merrie looked at her cousin. "I'm insisting on holding her wedding reception at any event, she climaxed the occasion at night with a beautiful 'scandal dive' into the swimming pool, clothesless. Newspapers headline the story from coast to coast. Merrie, amid a wave of publicity and with $10,000 advanced by her father, VanVleet, leaves for New York City, having flown there from Riverbend overnight, meets her train. He is a scheme to purloin her money. Having helped her find a luxurious apartment, he makes ardent love to her. When she politely studies him he changes tactics and asks to be her 'purchasing agent.' As a starter he requires a check for $20,000. NOW READ CHAPTER 7.

CHAPTER SEVEN
Merrie was somewhat taken off her feet when Curt suggested that she write him a check for $20,000. She almost blurted out the truth, that her bank account only showed $10,000, but the habit of secrecy was ingrained and she merely shook her head.

The fact that she herself had deliberately misled him to the size of Gordon VanVleet's check bothered her not at all.

To tell the truth, Merrie was out of her depth when thousands were mentioned. Ten thousand was a vast fortune; $50,000 meant little more.

"Thanks a lot," she said to Curt. "I won't be so busy that I can't spend my own money." Throwing back her head, she hugged both hands to her breast in a little gesture of rapture. "And how, I'm going to love to spend money," she said.

"It's puzzled," Curt left the hotel in frowning thought. By the time he reached a certain cheap restaurant and bar in the basement of a building on East "Twelfth" his frown had changed to an exultant smile, and a smile somewhat forced. He dropped into a chair at a table where two men were already seated.

"Well?" said one of the men. He was coarse and squat, unshaven and not too clean; he had a rascally mien on his nose. "Did you bring the dough?"

"It's the same as in your hand, Jake," Curt told him grandly, with a great show of assurance.

"It better be," Jake growled. "We've been soft with you, Rayson. I'll just say this—get that 20 grand and get it quick—or else."

Curt leaned close to him and spoke in low tones. He knew where there was money, a quarter of a million. It was a pipe, a cinch.

The girl was so green she didn't know a milk from a milk truck. He produced newspapers containing pictures of Merrie Drake and himself.

"And I've got the inside track," he ended. "That little chicken is spoiling to be picked, and I'm the guy who'll do it."

Jake looked thoughtfully at the paper. "Well, make it snappy," was all he said, but there was a sinister meaning behind the words, and Curt shivered. He called a waiter.

"Whisky neat," he said. "Better make it two."

While Curt made temporary peace with Jake Hawley, Merrie prepared for a shopping trip. She had taken her dive and was wearing a modest negligee when the apartment doorbell buzzed.

A neat appearing woman stood in the corridor. She had a straight, unsmiling mouth and friendly eyes.

"The entire outfit must be chosen at once. Swiftly and carefully she made her decisions."

At 1 o'clock her luncheon was served in a black and silver hour-dish while she rested on a regal chaise longue. Silver covered

Ed Cox of Irvine, a very frequent visitor in El Toro, left for San Diego Tuesday, where he joined the Navy. There he plans to learn radio from A to Z.

Mrs. Fay Harvey of Los Angeles is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fox visited with their niece in Laguna Beach all day Tuesday.

Mrs. Liddie Hemenway, a member of the El Toro Woman's club, is making quite a stay at Elsinore Hot Springs.

The Irvine and El Toro grammar schools played three very exciting ball games here last week. The girls' volleyball game turned out to be Irvine 35 to El Toro 20. The older boys basketball game, Irvine 1 to El Toro 40, and the younger boys basketball game, Irvine 9 to El Toro 1.

Merrie Drake would appear at the Starlit Roof and a card was put on a gilded table. "Reserved for Merrie Drake," read the card.

Subsequently the news seeped into the Starlit Roof and a card was put on a gilded table. "Reserved for Merrie Drake," read the card.

EXHILARATED
It was after four when Merrie returned to her suite in the Franklin Manor. She was intoxicated with buying, exhilarated with attention. Almost immediately she was followed by a mountain of satin tied boxes.

Emma unpacked the boxes and nodded approvingly. Jars of sweet smelling creams and lotions, silver containers of powder, shimmering bottles of perfume, jeweled lipsticks, enamelled compacts of rouge.

They gave an air of elegance to the dressing table. Transparent hat boxes lined the wardrobe shelves. Each contained a hat. The slipper closet blossomed with gold and silver, brocade and colored kid.

Drawers foamed with dainty underthings, a shining evening gown hung on a velvet hanger.

"There'll be more tomorrow," Merrie exclaimed rapturously as she slid into a white fur evening wrap and turned back and forth before a mirror. Her eyes blazed with delight. "How do I look, Emma? Did you ever see anyone look so lovely?"

Emma pursed her lips. "Pretty is as pretty does," she quoted and Merrie giggled youthfully. She smiled at her reflection and laid her cheek against the soft fur.

"Very good taste," admitted Emma. "Extremely modish." She looked strangely at the radiant Merrie. "It must be pleasant to buy what you please."

"Pleasant?" Merrie scoffed. "It's a wow—a thousand wows." At half after seven she waited for Curt. Citizens of Riverbend would have gasped had they seen little Merrie Drake.

Emma was a wizard. Her clever hands had made the pretty little cocoon which had been Merrie into a vivid butterfly.

SO BEAUTIFUL
Her hair was drawn tightly back, even the flat mass of curls on her neck were severe. A white wreath adorned her head.

Her gown was shimmering white. Much time and material had been spent on the skirt which fitted snugly around her slender hips and widened until yards of it touched the floor.

She wore white sandals with mother of pearl heels. For Merrie herself opened the door for Curt.

"Whew!" he exclaimed. "May I present myself to the lovely lady? Curt Rawson, at your service."

Merrie laughed. "Please don't bow," she begged. "People have bowed today until I can't stand any more of it."

Emma came into the room with Merrie's coat. Out looked at her without changing expression. "Lady's maid and everything," he remarked as they waited for the elevator. "Where'd you get

P. O. INCOME ESTIMATE SHOWS DROP

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The post-office department has estimated that its income for the year starting July 1 will be $775,000,000—$20,000,000 less than it had figured on last Nov. 22.

The revised estimate was transmitted by Postmaster General Farley to a house appropriations subcommittee, which approved the treasury-postoffice appropriation bill.

In a letter of Dec. 29, Farley also reduced the estimate for the current fiscal year from $761,500,000 to $752,500,000.

The department asked congressional approval for expenditures of $753,000,000 in the next fiscal period, which would leave a deficit of $18,000,000, instead of an anticipated surplus of $2,000,000, without taking into consideration the $48,000,000 cost of subsidies, free mail and similar items.

If the latter is reduced from expenditures, the department would show what it calls a "net postal surplus" of $30,000,000.

Department officials told the subcommittee an ordinary business gain or recession was not reflected in postal receipts for about six months.

Jesse M. Donaldson, deputy first assistant postmaster general testified during hearings on the appropriation measure that "the time has not been reached" for returning to 2-cent postage, an action which, he said, would reduce postal revenue by about $90,000,000.

He said that the number of postal clerks was at an all-time peak of 73,448, despite installation in many places of conveyors and other mechanical equipment. The five-day week, he said, is partly responsible.

EXAMS SEEN FOR BUSINESS MEN

"The time's coming when a man, before he can hang out his shingle and go into business, will have to take an examination and be licensed just like a lawyer or doctor."

That prediction was made to Lions club members yesterday afternoon by Al W. Grieve, Los Angeles business engineer, in a talk on "Keeping Up With The Times."

Twenty-five per cent of all retail businesses fail each year, the speaker said, mostly because of inefficient business methods. He urged an examination as a means of keeping down the cost to the public of inefficiency.

"The cost of these failures," he said, "is $2,000,000,000 annually, or $14 for every man, woman and child, or $35 per year for every person with an income."

Examinations such as the ones he proposes, Grieve said, would be based on knowledge and adaptability to merchandising, bookkeeping, salesmanship and advertising.

NEW ORGAN PUT IN AT KIT KAT

First Hammond electric organ to be installed in the county is an additional source of entertainment for patrons of the Kit Kat each evening, according to O. W. Hinegardner. The music rendered on this instrument by Russ Sweetser is proving popular among the guests at the club.

Sweetser is widely known throughout Orange county as being a featured artist on the Don Lee and Columbia broadcasting systems, having worked for radio networks for a period of five years. He has also had a half dozen years experience with the motion picture industry as an organist.

The two Avalon boys, who have appeared a number of times in fascinating entertainment numbers, are returning to the Kit Kat, according to Hinegardner, beginning this evening under terms of a one year contract.

PHANTOM VOICE AT MARKET

Hear the phantom voice, watch Ferg the cartoonist caricature the customers and see "Jeep" as you purchase bargains all day Saturday in the Orange County Ranch Market 1010 South Main street.

This is the advice of the market's manager, John R. McLain, who today promised unique entertainment at his market.

"The 'Phantom Voice,'" says McLain, "talks to you anywhere and everywhere in the store. You can hear it, but try as you may, you won't see who it is. Ferg, the cartoonist, will be here to sketch or cartoon you and last, but not least, watch out for 'Jeep.'"

"Jeep" is a strange South American animal, McLain explained, and is loaned to the market through the courtesy of Eddie Martin's airport.

IMPROVED DONS SEEK UPSET AT FULLERTON

Basketball fans can't go wrong in attending that Eastern J. C. conference inaugural between Fullerton and Santa Ana tonight. The game annually is a thriller. It is being played in Fullerton's spacious gymnasium, where more than 1000 good seats are available.

Fullerton, as defending Southern California champion and with another powerful array, will be the favorite, but we expect Blanchard Beatty's Dons to make the game extremely interesting. They have come along fast (witness that 38-36 upset over La Verne), and no longer can be regarded as pushovers.

Cy Leivermann, Santa Ana's six-foot-six center, has developed a shooting form that has given the club new confidence. Del Holan, "Chuck" Hall, Ken Marshall and Ted DeVelbiss, with Verne Rutledge as alternate, round out a first string that should trouble every conference rival.

University of Oregon's graduate manager, Arne Cornell, has facts and personal impressions of 10 coaches he has interviewed in seeking a successor to Prink Callison as head coach of the Web-foot.

Unless urged to do so by the Oregon athletic board, Cornell will not recommend any particular candidate, he announces.

But it is known that the former Santa Ana, G. A. (Tex) Oliver of the University of Oregon today narrowed the field of prospective successors to Prince Callison as head football coach from 54 to four.

Surviving prospects are Tex Oliver, coach at the University of Arizona; James Bradshaw, coach at Fresno State college; Ted Bank, coach at the University of Idaho, and Gene Shields, Oregon line coach.

He was instructed at a meeting of the board last night to invite the three out-of-state candidates to the campus for conferences.

War Admiral, listed as a "doubtful" starter, is held at 15 to 1. Carroll also cut the price on Time Supply from 60 to 30-1, and on Grey Count from 100 to 75-1.

BUDGE, MAKO IN DOUBLES LOSS

The victory gave the Australians a 2-0 lead in the informal match being conducted along Davis cup lines, Bromwich having whipped Mako yesterday in straight sets.

THOMPSON IS FAVORITE IN CROSBY GOLF

DEL MAR. (AP)—Springtime weather, with the thermometer up in the high 70's, is in prospect for the Bing Crosby-sponsored golf tournament to be played here tomorrow and Sunday over 36 holes.

The weather prospect is quite a bit different from the weather actuality of last year, when the visitors were nearly washed out by torrential rains.

Among those on hand for the 36 holes, split up tomorrow and Sunday, are Jimmy Thomson, winner of the Los Angeles Open; Harry Cooper, Horton Smith and Sam Snead. Snead won the one-day tournament last year, shooting a 68 to take first money.

The golfers will seek a total purse of $3000. Thomson, who won the recent Los Angeles Open, will be one of the favorites.

Sharing interest with the feature of Orange will be Excelsior's game at Huntington Beach, and Newport Harbor's stand at Anaheim. Huntington Beach trimmed Long Beach Jordan, 27 to 19, and Anaheim stopped Excelsior, 27 to 18, in openers last week.

STANFORD FIVE ENGAGES TROY

PALO ALTO. (AP)—Capt. Angelo (Hank) Luisetti and his red-shirted teammates will open defense of Stanford's Pacific Coast conference basketball championship here tonight against University of Southern California.

Each team has warmed up on barnstorming tours and the Trojans beat U. C. L. A. last week at Los Angeles in the conference curtain-raiser. The teams will clash again tomorrow night.

Girls' Basketball Team Wins from Studio Men, 43-27

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—That fiery glow over Warner Brothers film studio today wasn't a sunrise.

It was a reflection from the burning ears of the studio men's basketball team.

Last night they played the All-American Red Heads, a barnstorming girls' squad from Missouri, and were crushed, 43 to 27.

Peggy Lawson, five feet nine inches of femininity, and the smallest red head, made the most points—14. Six-foot Gladys Lommer scored 10.

As the conquered males left the court, fans yelled:

U. S. TO AID BUBONIC PLAGUE FIGHT

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Congress received today a request for $51,000 to combat the spread of bubonic plague in the United States. The house appropriations committee asked the sum in the public health section of the $1,400,000,000 treasury appropriations bill.

During hearings on the measure, Dr. C. E. Waller, assistant surgeon general, disclosed recent carriers had been discovered in every Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain state except Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona.

He said investigations in Utah and Nevada had indicated the disease prevailed "extensively" in some sections, particularly around Lake Tahoe.

"Field laboratories are almost constantly uncovering new infected area in the whole Rocky Mountain area," Dr. Waller said.

NURSING BOTTLE KILLS BABY

TOLEDO, O. (AP)—An unusually large hole in the nipple of a nursing bottle caused the death early today of Glenda Sue Boeker, three-month daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Boeker.

Coroner H. E. Whitacre said death was due to asphyxiation by drowning. An ounce of milk drained from the baby's mouth when he examined her, the coroner said. Four ounces of the fluid remained in the five ounce bottle, indicating he said, that the hole permitted the milk to enter into the baby's mouth too quickly.

MONTAGUE ON SPOT AGAIN

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—John Montague, mighty dean of golf, was under order to appear in superior court today to explain why he said he had no debts when he had his name changed recently from La Verne Moore.

Superior Judge Emmet Wilson, who issued the order, said he had a letter from Raymond M. Bush, Syracuse, N. Y., lawyer, advising him Montague was in contempt of court for failing to appear in a "supplemental" procedure as the outgrowth of a judgment against him which he has not paid.

FORMER N. Y. ATTORNEY DIES

NEW YORK. (AP)—The life of Albert Ottinger, former state attorney general and one-time Republican candidate for governor, is ended.

The 59-year-old son of a German immigrant who lost the governorship in 1928 to Franklin D. Roosevelt, died yesterday of a heart attack.

Ottinger, a state senator from 1916 to 1921, was an assistant U. S. attorney general in Harding's administration. He was elected state attorney general in 1924, and was re-elected in 1926.

Gasser Blows in With Roar

With a roar heard for several miles, and pressure that hurried muck 400 feet into the air, this gas well, the first producer in the upper Sacramento valley, seven miles from Willows, Calif., came in. A hole 100 feet in diameter was created by the pressure and equipment valued at $125,000 was destroyed.

LEAVES MINE TO MOVIE STAR

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Marion Davies, film star, today considered what she would do with an interest in mining property left her by an unknown admirer, Clark Alvord, veteran Nevada miner.

Alvord's will, filed in Las Vegas, Nev., a week after his death there, read:

"I give and bequeath to my beloved Marion Davies all my property, both real and personal, which includes $10,000 shares of the South Eastern Mining company of Eldorado Canyon, Nev., she at all times and her heirs to have all full voting power of above shares."

To the hand-written will, dated Sept. 24, 1930, he added a codicil later which provided 45 per cent of his estate should go to his legal heirs and which left bequests of about $1000 to eight Clark county residents.

Friends said Alvord never missed one of Miss Davies' pictures, often driving 40 miles across rough desert roads to Las Vegas theaters.

"I never met Mr. Alvord," Miss Davies said. "I do not know him personally. He wrote several letters asking for photographs, which were sent him in the usual course. He was always very kind and complimentary in his letters."

The miner named Miss Davies as one of three executors of his will. His estate included $1000 cash, a patented mining company and a lease with an estimated value of $9000.

"I imagine the best thing to do is to give the money to charity or to some public purpose in his name," the actress said.

Official estimates show that farmers produce from 100 to 250 pounds of straw, stalks or husks for every 100 pounds of grain.

'TINIEST' BABE HAS BIRTHDAY

CHICAGO. (AP)—Brown-eyed Jacqueline Jean Benson, "the world's smallest baby to live," celebrated her second birthday anniversary today.

The first child of a young couple, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Benson, "Jackie" weighed an estimated 12 ounces at birth and doctors said medical history contained no record of a tinier baby to live.

She now weighs 24 pounds, normal for her height.

Baby Jacqueline, born three months prematurely, spent the first 4½ months of her life in an incubator. Oxygen was administered from the start. She was fed mother's milk through a rubber tube to her stomach and later with an eye dropper. Incubation brought Jacqueline's weight to 7½ pounds.

UNION LOSES DAMAGE SUIT

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Federal Judge Fred L. Wham awarded the United Electrical Coal company damages of $117,000 today against seven locals and 66 individual members of the Progressive Miners of America, for alleged interference with the operation of its Red Ray mine near Freeburg, Ill.

The company had sought $400,000 for losses it claimed were suffered during the closing of the mine because of a strike from April 1, 1933 to Feb. 11, 1936.

The decision was declared to be a "direct blow at the right to strike," by George Dowell of Duquoin, attorney for the union.

SEINERS IN EXODUS FROM BAY AREA

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Captain Eddie McCarthy, chief lookout for the San Francisco Marine exchange, said today that all but 100 of the 250 fishing vessels that gathered here last August to seine sardines have departed because of "the worst season in years."

The trawlers, whose home ports range from Alaska to Panama, have left for more profitable pursuit of tuna and albacore in the south and halibut in Alaskan waters, McCarthy said.

In "normal" seasons, said McCarthy, 60 to 80 tons of sardines were delivered to the mother ships every night for processing. He opined that the current shortage might be blamed on these large catches of past years. The U. S. Bureau of Fisheries is making an investigation to determine cause of the poor season.

PRAYING TRIO AWAITS NOOSE

NEW ORLEANS. (AP)—Freshly shaved and bathed, three men packed small cells early today, often kneeling to pray.

They awaited the noon hour, set for their hanging.

The three, Anthony Dallao, Joseph Ugarte and the Caucasian condemned to die for a holdup murder, saw all but one thread holding them to life cut last night when the Louisiana board of pardons unanimously declined to indurate.

Their final hope was a last minute reprieve from Gov. Richard W. Leche, but those close to the executive said he, too, would refuse to aid them.

On May 18, 1934, George Dallao, brother of Anthony, was hanged in Jefferson parish, across the river from this city, for the holdup murder of a grocer.

The three awaiting death were convicted of slaying Pierre N. Rizan, a bank guard, during a holdup here in New Orleans, 1930. The bandits escaped with $3100.

The hangman, known only as "Mr. Executioner," was said by prison guards to be ready for his job. He was described as being a "precise, calm and careful" man.

PROHIBITION PARLEY SLATED

CHICAGO. (AP)—E. E. Blake, chairman of the national committee of the Prohibition party, announced today the party would hold a policy conference at Columbus, Ohio, March 7 and 8.

Blake said that all members of the national committee, state chairmen and leaders of the party had been invited and termed the response "very encouraging."

AGED MERCED JUDGE QUILTS

MERCED. (AP)—Superior Judge E. N. Rector, 72, announced his forthcoming resignation from the Merced bench today and said he would retire next August after 27 years of constant service.

Judge Rector, the fourth oldest superior judge in California, will retire on halfpay under a new state law recently passed by the legislature.

Brooklyn Fire Perils Families

NEW YORK. (AP)—Twenty-five families were removed by police and firemen from their apartments today when fire raged through the adjoining Lutz Lumber yard in Brooklyn.

LIGHT BEAM MAY CATCH SPEEDERS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—If you like to step on the accelerator when the road's clear ahead and there's not a cop in sight, you're due for a bad jolt.

Science had found out how to give you a ticket for speeding even though the nearest policeman is a mile away.

It's the electric eye again. The same eye that opens doors for parcel-laden travelers in railroad stations and turns on bubblers when thirsty workers bend down.

The new device projects a flickering infra-red beam across the road to a photo-electric cell. If you're driving too fast, explains its designer, Thomas C. McCaleb, Harvard radio instructor, the electric cell can tell by the way the beam is broken, quickly or slowly. It can be set for any speed.

Below that speed nothing happens. But above it, the machine is trained to light an electric sign a short distance down the road.

The machine sends an electric impulse to police headquarters, making a ticker tape whenever speed limits are exceeded. After that, McCaleb explains, it's up to cruising cars to halt the violators.

Service Clubs Assist Scouts
Orange county service clubs since 1931 have assisted the Boy Scout council in taking care of 418 "under-chanced and under-privileged" boys and girls, it was made known today by Scout Executive Harrison White.

"We have also taken a great number of juvenile cases," White said, "being boys from homes under conditions which might have proven disastrous during their leisure time." Since 1931 there have been 127 of these cases handled.

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. ROBB

Those who read my column last evening will not be surprised at the news coming out of Washington in another press dispatch quoted in Wednesday's Los Angeles Examiner and which I am re-quoting tonight. The dispatch credits Arthur L. Johnson, as having said, "Complete abandonment of the Townsend pension plan was approved today by 80 representatives of pension organizations from several states as a means of speeding action on a measure liberalizing the Social Security Act."

The dispatch goes on to say, "The measure which retains the transaction tax provisions of the Townsend plan, but eliminates a guaranteed pension, will be sponsored by the general welfare committee."

Quoting again from the news item, "Arthur L. Johnson, chairman of the organization, said that 130 members of the House now are supporting the bill, which is estimated to provide pensions from $60 to $100 a month for those over 60. The group agreed to petition the ways and means committee for hearings."

Coupling up the above dispatch with a write up in The Journal, Wednesday evening based on a news release out of Washington telling of a celebration held in honor of Congressman Harry R. Sheppard's 55th birthday and the congressmen which the congressmen is credited with having made, and we have quite a complete picture of what is happening in Congress along old age pension lines. I quote from the news release as follows:

"There is small doubt, predicted Congressman Harry R. Sheppard, that immediate action on a substantial national old-age pension based on a gross income (transaction) tax will be obtained through a united front of various pension groups."

"Sheppard made his prediction following a conference of 25 leaders of various pension groups in Washington, over which he presided. The meeting was called by the General Welfare Act steering committee, Sheppard said."

"Groups represented included the General Welfare Federation of America, Inc., Social Security Improvement League, United States Old Age Pension association, U. S. Federal Pension group, General Welfare associations of Florida, Illinois, Indiana and Maryland.

"The delegates, Sheppard emphasized, were apparently anxious to settle on a common bill having the basic principles of the proposed general welfare act."

There will no longer be any question as to whether Congressman Sheppard is back of the General Welfare Act of 1937 or not. The two press dispatches make it conclusive that the Congressman from this district has deserted House Bill H. R. 4199 (which is the Townsend bill) in a similar manner with which he deserted the leadership of Dr. Francis E. Townsend in June, 1937. The cry that has been going up from some of Mr. Sheppard's supporters in this district that he has been loyal to the Townsends of the 19th district by supporting their bill will now have to be substituted with some other kind of a cry. This column really feels that many of the folks who left the Townsend movement and the leadership of Dr. Townsend to follow Congressman Sheppard and Arthur L. Johnson, are deserving of sympathy just now. Many of these people really believed that Sheppard would stick with the Townsend bill and now he has let them down just like he did the Townsends who helped to elect him.

This column is not surprised at Congressman Sheppard's action in deserting the sponsorship of H. R. 4199 for that's just what he's been preparing to do since his break with Dr. Townsend last June. He was elected on the promise that he would support Townsend plan legislation and now he gives public notice that he doesn't intend doing so. It's a good thing he had a happy birthday last Monday for this column predicts that he won't celebrate his next one as a congressman in Washington. At least if he does it won't be because of the Townsend vote. It is reported that he has boasted he won't need the Townsend vote to be elected again as the congressman from this district—perhaps a man from this district—perhaps

HOOVER TO VISIT IN EUROPE

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover will sail from New York for Belgium Feb. 8 to revisit the scene of his labors as director of a relief commission which fed ten million persons during the World war.

Friends of the former president disclosed he had accepted an invitation from the Belgian government and various Belgian universities, tendered through Ambassador Robert Von Der Stratenpontoz at Washington, D. C., who said the Belgian people wished to assure Mr. Hoover of "their unalterable attachment."

The family said the trip had "no political implications." Mr. Hoover will be accompanied only by a personal friend, Paul C. Smith, general manager of the San Francisco Chronicle.

1937 Biggest Publishing Year

LONDON. (American Wire)—Reading reached an all-time annual analysis of the publishing and book-selling trades indicates. Books published numbered 71,286, which was 714 more than in 1936. The number of fiction books published declined by 236.

not, but the Townsends believe different. They had the balance of power vote in the district at the last election and they are still contented enough to believe they will have again. Time will tell.

In the meantime Townsends keep on saving wood. Your day of victory is coming. It will be a good thing for the Townsend cause that this unmasking of your congressman in Washington is taking place. Let them vent themselves in behalf of their compromised old age pension plan. Let them show their true colors by lending their aid to the amending of the present Old Age Security Act. In that way we will know in next fall's election who to retain in congress and who to keep at home.

Santa Ana Club No. 11 is meeting in the Franklin school at 1512 West Fourth street at 7:30 tonight with Grant Henderson in the chair as the newly elected president of the club. The meeting will be a business one.

TO MOISTEN FRUIT CAKE
Last year's fruit cake may be moistened by saturating a clean cloth with spiced fruit juice and wrapping it about the cake. (A little rum or wine may be added to the juice.) Return the cake to its airtight container.

By GEORGE COVERDALE

If a lottery ticket is sent you from some other country, the chances are the postman will remind you of the fact.

Envelopes containing all such items are marked by postal inspectors as they enter this country, but are permitted to continue on their journey to the person they are intended for. Arriving in Santa Ana, the office turns the letter over to the postman who delivers same to the addressee.

But, the tickets are not delivered in the impersonal manner in which other letters are. The postman rings the owner's doorbell, gets him to the front entrance of his home, and requests the envelope be opened in his presence.

Most persons upon removing the contents gladly return the tickets to the postman. In case, however, they object, that's all right by the postman, too. Uncle Sam has a ready method of handling tough customers.

SCORES ATTEND FUNERAL RITES

More than 300 sorrowing friends of Mrs. Harvey (Sue Ann) Rittner, prominent Tustin woman who died of a heart attack Tuesday, attended her funeral services yesterday at Brown and Wagner's Colonial chapel.

Mrs. Rittner was a prominent member of the local First Baptist church, of the League of Women Voters, of the Tustin W. C. T. U., of the Tustin Farm Center, and of the Parent-Teacher association.

She is survived by three sons, Elmer, Horace, and Elwood; a granddaughter, Samantha Ann Rittner; four sisters, Mrs. Laura Helbelberger of Kansas City, Mrs. Ada Phelps of Long Beach, Mrs. Julian Wearne of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Letha Hawkins of San Francisco; and six brothers, who were her pallbearers. They are Frank Deaver of Santa Ana, Charles Deaver of Los Angeles, Barrett Deaver of Long Beach, and Victor, Virgil, and Elmer Deaver of Escondido.

The Rev. Harry Evan Owings preached the funeral sermon, and interment followed in Fairhaven cemetery.

WARN COUNTY AGAINST 'REDS'

The greatest threat to Orange county agriculture today is Communism, working through labor unions, George Graham, secretary of the Associated Farmers, told the Central Lemon association yesterday.

Growers must "wake up and rid the county of these agitators," he said, else the county will be "like a building riddled with termites."

The main project of A. F. of L. and CIO this year, he warned, is organization of all agricultural workers in the state, with their eventual aim "control of the ranches by the laborers."

Graham in his talk lashed John L. Lewis, Dave Beck and certain labor organizers for their activities.

His advice to growers: "Clean house. Pay adequate wages, watch the overtime, know your picking foreman, and at all times make your men feel free to discuss their problems with you. Never talk to an organizer—send him to the Associated Farmers."

LINER WRECK PAIR MARRIED

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Jack T. McCartney, Long Beach, today had a bride as the result of the liner President Hoover's stranding near Hoishoto island last month.

McCartney, 29-year-old steward on the President Hoover, and Frances Joaquin, 31, a nurse-stewardess of Los Altos, revealed they met in Hong Kong after the Hoover grounded, and decided to be married. The ceremony was held here Wednesday night.

Mrs. McCartney aided in setting up an emergency hospital for passengers of the President Hoover on Hoishoto island and her husband was detailed to provide food for a group of them.

Thieves Make Light of Tokyo's Darkness

TOKYO, (AP)—Light-control in Tokyo, during recent air-raid maneuvers, has put a barrier between the home office and the war office.

During the maneuvers all street lights were turned out, windows were shrouded and complete darkness prevailed. Taking advantage of the situation, thieves stole 38 iron manhole covers from a street under construction.

The home office presented a bill to the war office. It came back with the statement that, under wartime conditions, the home office would be responsible for its own property.

Desperado Hides Money in Shoe; Scared of Thieves

"I was afraid I might get held up," explained the desperado. Hunt and Hugh Grant, listed as public enemies by J. Edgar Hoover, were arrested here Tuesday.

SHEPPARD CANNILY SCANS POLITICAL DOPE

CONGRESSMAN NOSES INTO STATE RACEWill Back O'Connor
For Governorship

By FRANK ORR

It may be some time yet, but within the next month or so Harry Sheppard, as canny a politician as ever came out of the wilds of the Nineteenth district of California, will make an announcement.

Sheppard will hitch his wagon to the star of J. P. O'Connor, comptroller of the treasury, as a candidate for the governorship.

That wouldn't be Frank Orr mean much in the case of the ordinary politician. They all have to stick their necks out now and then, whether or not there is any reason behind their choice of a direction in which to stick it.

Sheppard is no ordinary politician. As a freshman representative, he is saving more weight in Washington than many a congressman years his senior, and sits high in the New Deal councils as well as gatherings of the more conservative variety. His friendship for Speaker Chandler, a fellow Alabamian, has placed Sheppard in the speaker's chair five times during the last session. When he picks a horse, chances are his nag will run a pretty fair race.

His choice of O'Connor is partly a matter of friendship, but just as much so that our congressman would lean the wrong way just to give a pal a boost. There are reasons.

For one thing, the national Democratic administration will keep closer tabs on California this year than before, seeing what happened last time when the party ran in two directions and opened the door to Frank Merriam, a Republican who was elected by the fact that the Democrats nominated Upton Sinclair. Democrats, and most of the Republicans too, have regretted that state of affairs.

And Sheppard, if anybody would know, is in a position to know which way Farley will blow in the California race. That would make several hundred thousand votes' difference. He and his secretary, Harold Thoreson (whom Sheppard expects to land in a diplomatic service job) are both good friends of O'Connor.

Thus, should O'Connor be elected governor, Congressman Sheppard would be No. 1 Democrat on the state list. Should anything happen to Hiram Johnson or W. G. McAdoo, elderly senators, Sheppard would have a nice clear track—if O'Connor is elected.

With senatorial ambitions at least, Sheppard couldn't well afford to pick a horse without a chance of winning.

Which makes O'Connor look more formidable than before.

I Just Found Out Work at Playground—By—MILLARD
BROWNE

That playgrounds may be clean and tidy for an annual crowd of 400,000 people, some 20 prisoners of Orange county jail work eight hours a day in Irvine park 12 miles east of Santa Ana.

Escorted by four guards, the laboring prisoners leave jail here every morning, spruce up the park's 160 acres, then come back their wives and children.

During the slack winter season, the prisoners repair park equipment and get the county's playground ready for summer use, working that will average 15,000 every Sunday. Most of the 20 laborers are non-support prisoners who have been ordered to work so the county can pay for support of their wives and children.

Maintenance work at the park is under direction of Fay Irwin, caretaker there for the past seven years, though the prison guard is headed by Deputy Sheriff Ray Fisher.

Irwin virtually was raised in Irvine park (also known as Orange County park). He was running the concessions 18 years ago while his father was caretaker, was appointed to the head job in 1930. Now his brother, J. B. Irwin, is concession man.

The two Irwin families are the only ones living in the park, since county ordinance prohibits anyone else from residing there. A two-weeks limit was placed on free camping grounds several years ago when more and more transients pitched tents and stayed several months at a time.

Biggest crowd in history was nearly 20 years ago when 30,000 people turned out for ceremonies honoring Orange county war veterans. Crowds exceeding 20,000 have been reported numerous times since then.

Early spring is best season for picnicking, major excuse for going out to the park, and the park's load gradually increases each week, hitting a peak on the Fourth of July.

In mid-week, most patrons are Orange county people, but only about half the Sunday customers are county residents. Majority of outsiders are from Los Angeles, Long Beach, Hollywood and Pasadena.

Always popular in summer are the park's sport facilities. Two nearby riding stables, horse-shoe and tennis courts and lighted softball diamond. Night softball attracts a big crowd during balmy spring evenings, but it isn't the only night-time attraction, Irwin slyly winked. He rarely chases "spooners" off the grounds unless they're too numerous or hoisterous.

Rah-rah youths of high school or junior college age are most boisterous park visitors. They picnic there frequently, make most noise by tooting horns, laughing loudly and playing pranks. They're a little careless with park equipment, too, Caretaker Irwin laments.

PLANET ZIPS
DANGEROUSLY
PAST EARTH

What might have happened had a baby planet, 23 miles in diameter, and headed earthward, struck here, was described today by Mrs. John Tessmann, Santa Ana Junior college astronomy instructor.

The large ball, which was heading for the world on the evening of Oct. 30, came within 400,000,000 miles of the earth, which, in astronomical computations, was only a mere matter of inches.

Had the little planet penetrated our atmosphere and fallen into the ocean, serious damage could have resulted to men and their property from resulting tidal waves, Mrs. Tessmann said.

There is no doubt what would have occurred had it landed in a large metropolitan area, such as New York city, Mrs. Tessmann added. However, had it terminated its journey in the desert, only noticeable change would have been warmer weather in the vicinity, sufficiently intense to shrivel plant life, she estimated.

Dr. H. E. Wood, astronomer at South Africa, who reported viewing the celestial incident, believes "this was the narrowest escape the earth has ever had in the period of astronomical observations. From Oct. 25 to Oct. 30," he said, "the planet was rushing almost straight towards the earth. This sort of thing has happened previously, but it is only since the introduction of astro-photography that we have been able to detect it."

"Reservations" for picnic areas, consequently, have no official standing, and if someone beats the group that's reserved grounds for a certain evening, there's nothing that can be done about it. Nearly all groups check in advance, however, and Irwin will warn them if another big party is planned at the park for the same evening. Resulting conflicts are few and far between.

Expansion of park facilities ceased several years ago, principally because the entire acreage donated to the county back in 1897 has been fully developed, with a network of roads leading to every point in the park, and with all weeds and underbrush cleared long since. CCC and WPA crews have undertaken a few specialized projects there, all current odd jobs are handled by the prison-labor crew.

Lunch, soft drink and boating concessions are leased to J. B. Irwin, whose activities are limited by the county supervisors and deed restrictions. No intoxicating liquor can be sold in the park, for example, and no admission fee can be charged for any entertainment whatever.

Among the park's most popular attractions—particularly with the numerous parties of school children that come from nearly every school in the county during May and June—are the few animals exhibited. They currently include an alligator, two monkeys, a number of birds and several deer. Monkeys, naturally, are the most popular.

Offices of the chamber of commerce will be moved from the courthouse annex building to temporary quarters at 109 West Fifth street, it was announced today by Howard Wood.

The chamber will maintain its headquarters here until completion of its new home, being constructed near the Y. M. C. A.

MUSICIANS

The Junior Musicians of America will loan free of charge 50 musical instruments to talented Santa Ana boys and girls who will agree to practice three hours weekly for a program to be presented locally within the next four months.

This offer was made today by T. R. Padgett, Santa Ana representative of the organization, whose purpose it is to stimulate musical interest in the youth of America.

Rehearsals for the program will be underway in two weeks, Padgett said. As soon as the half-hundred young musicians are ready to appear publicly, an auditorium will be engaged and a concert open to the public will feature the youngsters. At this time several juvenile screen stars will be presented in specialty numbers.

Among those who Padgett hopes to have present are Edith Fellows, who was on last year's program of the organization here; Robert Spindola, who was featured in the motion pictures "The Firefly" and "Ramona" and Ronald and Lon Chaney III.

Padgett said today there are 1100 branch chapters of the Junior Musicians of America in the United States and Canada. Los Angeles office is located at 951 Southwestern avenue.

"We will loan the instruments to the children as long as we have reasonable assurance from their parents they are practicing at least three hours weekly," Padgett stated.

For the next several weeks Padgett may be reached at Hotel Finley, 410 E. Fourth street.

NOT DEAD YET

PHOENIX, Ariz.—"Please send us copies of the certificate of birth and the certificate of death of Arizona," wrote a Los Angeles moving picture studio to the state superintendent of public health.

"I'm leaving my desk now and won't be back until I make a pinch, whether it's a day, a week or month," Mueller said as he put on his coat and hat.

Turning around he bumped into James Brown, 53, who said he had "no place to sleep, no place to eat, and I'd like to go to the house of correction for 90 days." Mueller told Brown he was under arrest for vagrancy. Then he hung up his hat and coat, and sat down at his desk.

Speaker Tells Of Finnish Women

Two principal themes fascinated the audience of University Women, Business and Professional Women, and Altruists who last night heard Dr. Stina Grippenberg of Finland address a dinner meeting of the A. A. U. W.

During dinner Dr. Grippenberg described her own career as a chemist and member of the Finnish Marine Research Institute, and later discussed the more general but equally interesting subject of Finnish women.

Of particular interest to the University Women was Dr. Grippenberg's status as one of their international fellows. She is a member of the Finnish Federation of University Women, and it was while serving as secretary of the national committee of international relations that she learned of the international fellowship granted by the American association. Her application was accepted last year, and she has since been studying the canyons of the sea at La Jolla Marine Laboratory. Her particular work in Finland has to do with study of the bottom of the Baltic.

A finely tabulated history of women's progress in Finland, starting with the first recognition of rights in 1758, at which time widows were given the right to vote for Lutheran pastors, was presented by the capable woman speaker. Outstanding dates she recited were admission of women to Finnish universities in 1871, suffrage in 1916, and permission to hold government offices in 1929. She stated that 40 per cent of jobs in Finland are held by women and that they dominate the banks and postoffices. Further, more in Finland women hold many jobs that they do not here, for example, ticket-takers on railroads.

Dr. Grippenberg was introduced by Mrs. Horace Scott, fellowship chairman, and Miss Mabel Whiting, president, presided over the meeting. It was announced by Miss Mabel McFadden, program chairman, that Mrs. John Tamm, international relations chairman, would have charge of next month's program, the affair in the parish hall of the Episcopal church of the Messiah. At that time Dr. Earl Cranston of Redlands will talk.

JEAN GASTON TO LECTURE IN MUSEUM

Experiences of her four-months' tour through Mexico and other Central American countries will be related by Jean Kay Gaston when she lectures in Bowers Memorial museum, Twentieth and Main streets, at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

"The Lure of Mexico" has been chosen for Mrs. Gaston's lecture and she will be introduced by Mrs. F. E. Coulter, curator of the museum. Of special interest among the many curios which she brought back to Santa Ana with her will be a shrunken head from the headhunter tribes.

Mrs. Gaston was on the trip four months, traveling to El Salvador by train, and embarking for Panama on a boat from there. On the trip both ways she paused at the many interesting small countries for tours and study.

Four Events To Feature Benefit

A bare outline of a benefit program to raise funds for the girls and women of China has been arranged by the board of directors of the Santa Ana Y. W. C. A., in response to an urgent appeal from the national board.

The composite affair will be held next Friday at 2:30 p. m., the 21st, and will consist of four events. There will be a musicale at the Gustin Studio, 819 South Sycamore street; a book review in the C. F. Smith home, 1816 Heliotrope drive; a review of China news in the Hugh Gerrard home, 2009 Victoria drive; and tea from four to five in the E. B. Sprague home, 1920 Victoria drive.

Tickets for each will be on sale at Shaffer's Music store, at the Santa Ana Book store, and at Wiesemann's, as well as at the Y. W. C. A. rooms. As yet performers and committees have not been completed, but details of the event will be released later in the week.

All proceeds will go to the emergency fund now being built up by the Y. W. C. A. to aid war-afflicted Chinese women. The local association has particular interest in the work because both Miss Margaret E. Brennecke and Miss Jeanne B. Perkins, Y secretaries in China, are classmates and friends of Miss Mary W. Howard, secretary of the Santa Ana group, and leader of the benefit performance.

"Oh, Well," he signed himself. He didn't ask for sympathy, advice or comment. Yet he closed his letter with "the pity of it all!"

He admitted that he dances divinely, that he has more good looks than most men and "only bows to a few others such as Robert Taylor."

MARY HAMPTON'S Column

When a woman really gets down to actualities in the business of making herself particularly charming, she looks less at movie actresses and fashion sketches, and most at her real self. After all, if one is building an Italian villa on the slopes of the Pyrennes it is certainly foolish to keep looking at English country manors—or Alpine ski haunts. And exactly the same thing applies to coiffures.

This is the season of individuality. But there is so very much misconception about that word. Actually, it has but one simple meaning which is successful. That is to be yourself with taste and charm. And so with hair. No two mortals trotting this earth are identically alike. And so when we begin the timely business of getting ready for the exciting season ahead, we must remember this just as much as the new dictates of fashion.

Fashion offers us a generous selection again. Not all curls must be brushed high in pompadour—nor indeed can every woman wear a low-swinging page-boy undercurl. Nor is the question of first importance what we ourselves like. Rather it is what we can wear.

Some of us are flattered by close coiffures which hug the head and show the ears. Others just must have width at the side in curls and rolls. Long necks and scrawny figures cannot possibly let the hair at the neck rise higher in contrast. They must keep theirs low. Whereas the plump and squat may as well abandon good dressing as to wear longish curls. And in case you think this is all, I must add that, whereas hair might have to be low at the back, other features might make it necessary to be very high atop the brow—such as a generous nose on a pretty face!

Flattering coiffures are checked from all angles. But this is even more important. Flattering coiffures are checked with an ever vigilant eye on the rest of the entire figure, and with a perpetual consciousness of relative proportions. So that two heads practically alike in proportions might each require quite different coiffures, depending upon the bodies which go with them. For one might be a large head upon a tiny, slender body beneath. And the other might be a small head upon a large body with heavy hips.

Proportion—proportion—oh, always proportions! That is the most important secret of all. New fashion trends in hair! Ah—and mighty new, too! First and foremost—hair brushed up on the way around, with either a pompadour circling the crown or soft curls atop the head. Second in importance, the page-boy curl. And after that, quite a few very distinctive arrangements such as coy bangs with low-hanging back curls—or a most Japanese-like fullness of curls over the ears at the sides. But the thing which now counts, first, last and all the time, is becomingness. And theory is not the road which leads to that—theory alone, untempered finely by taste and adventuresomeness, and ever so much discrimination.

It all may seem disgustingly comical to some, even tragic to others—this indolent compromise with life. It's none of these things. Perhaps you could call it a "will-o'-the-wisp" for we are sadly deceiving ourselves into thinking that we can find drama, joy and complete satisfaction in dreams. We can, but they won't be real, not any more real than this whole material dream in which we all seem to exist, seeking goodness in an unreality. Sincerely,

"DON'T MIND MR."

Shower Gifts Presented At Party

As a courtesy to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Alex Clark, Mrs. Thomas B. Clark was hostess last night for a pretty layette shower, using many lovely bowls of pink and blue spring flowers to decorate her home, 1819 North Broadway, setting for the party.

Bowls of pink sweet peas attractively arranged with pale blue larkspur, and a low bowl of pink camellias sent to the hostess from Sacramento were set throughout the rooms. A large white stork overlooked the dining room table where gifts for the honor guest were piled.

When the guests arrived, they were given materials to embroider blocks for a blue and white baby's quilt. Following this, games were played with prizes going to Miss Edna Wilson and Mrs. John Thompson. A special courtesy to Mrs. Alex Clark was a pink corsage of sweet peas and camellias presented to her by the hostess.

At the refreshment hour, small tables were centered with bouquets of pink sweet peas from which rose tall pink tapers. Pink napkins had been tied with blue ribbon to simulate kimono and nuptials were made to look like bouquets.

Guests at last night's charming party were Mrs. Alex Clark, Mrs. Robert Schwarm, Mrs. Robert Lowry, Mrs. Leroy Levens, Mrs. Frank Willis, Mrs. Beulah Kenyon, Mrs. Thomas M. Clark, Dr. Hester Olewiler, Mrs. Albert Markel, Mrs. Edward McHenry, Mrs. Milo Ainsworth, Miss Nadene Johnson, Miss Henrietta Kump, Miss Melvyn Thorpe, Miss Edna Wilson, Miss Emma Belle Fowler, and Miss Phyllis Hefke.

An invitation was extended to members to meet in the H. O. Oliver home in Fullerton for their next session, Feb. 9, with Mrs. Oliver as co-hostess.

Present for Wednesday's meeting were Mrs. E. A. B. Smith, Mrs. H. T. Mennery, Mrs. C. R. Sackerson, Mrs. T. G. Kilburn, Mrs. H. B. Stokes, Mrs. Carl Nelson, all of Santa Ana, Mrs. K. H. TOWNSEND HITS PLANS OF CONGRESS

LONG BEACH, (AP)—Dr. Francis Townsend, founder of the old age pension plan bearing his name, today denounced efforts of congressmen interested in age pension plans to compromise their differences.

He said he condemned a move Jan. 10 by a "falsely-named Townsend plan steering committee" to call the compromise meeting.

"We have long predicted," Dr. Townsend said, "that this compromise movement would be the next move of the administration as a means of patching up the very obnoxious social security act to a point where it would be bearable to the people."

"The congressmen who have participated in this compromise and were elected by our vote will be repudiated by us at the fall election in 1938 and will be left at home to reflect on their stupidity," Dr. Townsend arrived today for a week or two of rest.

Invents Anti-Skid Shoe "Chains"

DALTON, Wis. (American Wire)—Something handy for these days, anti-skid "chains" for shoes are the invention of William A. Walther of Dalton. The "chains" are a wire form with ice-gripping prongs. They fit over shoes like a pair of rubbers.

You Can Get a Nice Home For $6000; Uncle Sam Will Help Raise The Cash

The government's housing program has aroused national interest in the average man's house-building prospects. This series of three articles, starting today, tells the average man of those prospects—without getting his fingers burned.

By SIGRID ARNE
(AP) Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—From coast to coast it's possible for the family that can beg, borrow or draw from the bank $6000, to build a whopping good six-room house.

You don't need $6000 in cash at the start. If you have 20 per cent ($1200) for a down payment, you can borrow the rest under the Federal Housing Administration's insurance plan. And now that down payment may be reduced to 10 per cent.

In his message to congress, the President asked for changes in the housing law to reduce fees paid to FHA for insuring mortgages. That would mean a saving of $15 a year on a $6000 house.

If the bars go down, and the average man can build a $6000 house, what can he get for his money?

He can have a one or two-story house, with three bedrooms, a home considered adequate for a family with two children. It will have gas, electricity and at least one bath.

It will vary in different sections of the country. Labor costs are higher in some sections. Contractors' prices vary. Houses in the South don't need central heating and basements. Some people can get along without a garage.

Moreover, personal preferences have to be considered. The man who's too lazy to shovel his own coal is glad to put extra money

New Vision for Youth

Taking the count—of two fingers was big moment for Humbert Bolton of Columbus, Miss., after undergoing a delicate brain operation for removal of a tumor. Physicians say he may regain complete vision.

Troy Sculpture 5000 Years Old

CINCINNATI, Ohio. (American Wire)—Ruins of the ancient city of Troy have just yielded a stone face estimated to be nearly 5000 years old, a report from University of Cincinnati archaeologists excavating in the eastern Aegean area revealed. The sculpture was found amid debris of the first city of Troy under remains of seven other Troys, according to Dr. T. M. Semple and Carl W. Blegen, in charge of the excavations.

Driver Can't Read, Color Blind

NEW YORK. (American Wire)—Although he has been driving through traffic here for 20 years without being able to read or tell gray, pink, red and green apart, authorities were convinced his experience was no excuse, so Antonio Teri's license was suspended today. Teri amazed the jurist in Brooklyn traffic court when he couldn't read traffic signs and said red was gray. He was fined $2 for passing a red light.

into an automatic heater, but he has to pinch elsewhere in the house. Some people insist on porches, and they cost money.

FOR A FAMILY OF FOUR
But the $6000 home seems adequate for the average family of four. Federal housing authority architects point out that three bedrooms will provide a room for the parents and two bedrooms for the children, regarded as a necessity when they include boys and girls.

Building conditions vary so greatly that there is no universal pattern for a $6000 house. But FHA shows what can be done by taking from its files reports on houses that have been built for that sum under its insured mortgages.

Here's one in San Diego, Cal.: Six rooms, with two-car garage; no cellar, but it has a gas furnace; tile bath and lavatory; lot 50 by 127 feet. It cost the family $4646 a month for everything: payment on the house, interest, taxes, insurance.

Here's one in Jackson, Miss.: Two-story, with six rooms, finished outside with asbestos shingles; lot 50 by 150; bath and lavatory, both tiled; oak floors; no basement, but gas heaters in the rooms; rock-insulating overhead for the hot days. It costs the family $33.93 a month.

Here's one just outside St. Louis: White Cape Cod house of one and a half stories; hot air heat from a coal furnace; basement, one-car garage; one tiled bath; oak floors; lot 50 by 133. It costs the family $44 a month.

Here's one in Springfield, Mass.: Two-story shingle house, six rooms and basement; oil burner; one-car garage; oak floors and tiled bath and lavatory; lot 60 by 100 feet. It's costing the family $50.13 a month.

Here's one in Detroit: One and a half story Cape Cod house, finished in brick veneer; coal furnace and hot-air heat; lot 40 by 116 feet; no garage; basement; weather-stripped, insulated overhead; one bath.

Pay your money—if you can get it—and take your choice.

WOMAN WHO SAVED WEST...
Strange as it seems, were it not for the far-sightedness of a faithful wife, Jessie Benton Fremont, the west coast of the United States might now belong to Great Britain.

Early in American history European powers realized possession of the Pacific Northwest was an important factor in controlling trade with the Orient. Great Britain established a foothold on the mainland adjacent to Vancouver island, and prepared to move south and dispute ownership of the Oregon territory with the fledgling United States government.

Marcus Whitman, leader of a group of pioneer missionaries in Washington, learned of this British grab plan from traders of the Hudson Bay company, and in 1842 set out alone on horseback, riding 3000 miles to the capitol to plead with the government to claim the Oregon territory for the United States.

His report spurred the capitol to action, and the explorer, John C. Fremont, was dispatched to the West to make a complete report on the situation. Jessie Benton Fremont, wife of the explorer and daughter of Senator Thomas Benton, accompanied him to St. Louis, where Fremont, for an unexplained reason, bought a 12-pound howitzer for his expedition.

Here Is the Best Buy in a Model Five-Room Home

Located on a lot 65x130, with all the water you want for only $1.50 per month, with a beautiful creosote hickory lawn, and well started, this home has everything to satisfy the most critical. Stucco construction, built under the most rigid F.H.A. specifications, it is only 9 months old. The inside arrangement is ideal, and even the room sizes were carefully figured for convenience and comfort. The living room is 13x21, with a real fireplace, and opens on to what you may build into a beautiful outdoor living room. The hallway to the bedrooms contains two immense linen closets, and the bath is complete with shower. Each bedroom has a clothes closet with window and light. There are also two bedrooms in each of these 12x13 bedrooms, affording perfect light and ventilation. The dinette is 8x10 and connects to the living room with French doors. Kitchen is a model of "handiness" and contains besides plenty of cupboards and storage space, a recessed and ventilated box space. Canopy is built in over the stove, and the sink is, of course, of the finest tile work. The service porch is 8x10, and complete to even the plugs for washer and ironer. Double garage, with cement driveway to the front. Price and terms may be secured only from Ed L. Hensley, Realtor, Midway City, or phone Westminster 8361.

Chief Should Explain or Retire

Chief Howard owes it to the public to make a full and complete explanation of his position in the alleged Mexican lottery swindle.

He is a public official, elected because people believed in his ability and integrity.

This integrity has been placed under a dark cloud by the indictment of the federal grand jury at Los Angeles.

No public official has a right to remain in office under such charges without a convincing demonstration to those who elected him that the charges are groundless.

If the Chief is innocent, he should be able to make such a statement.

The simple assertion of "not guilty" is not enough in a case like this.

It now seems that the federal trial will be delayed for a period of weeks, even months.

For Chief Howard to remain in office without fully explaining his position is unfair to the police department, the city officials and the citizens who elected him.

It constitutes an embarrassing and an unjust situation, tending to destroy confidence in the majesty of the law and the honor and integrity of all public officials.

Chief Howard should make this explanation in justice to the voters who placed him in office and to his official associates.

Otherwise, he should retire from duty until such time as he can demonstrate his innocence in court.

The Japanese have capitalized a whaling company with 20,000,000 yen. In this country we would say somebody has a yen for whaling.

The Eternal Quest Again

A clergyman in Tennessee with whom your editor is personally acquainted is fasting almost to the point of death in an effort to prove that the soul is above the material needs of life.

For a year he has lived on sips of orange juice. Now he is abstaining from even this.

There are stranger things in this world than most men dream of.

Dean Noe of Memphis, Tenn., has experienced his share of them. He has put the sick to sleep by the mere laying on of hands. He has shared in incredible cures by faith alone.

Irrefutable witnesses throughout the ages have testified to the existence of spiritual forces which man does not understand.

Dean Noe is seeking them. Persons who possess a subconscious knowledge of the supernatural will understand and sympathize with that quest.

A blanket was flown from New Zealand to President Roosevelt in seven days. With a pair of those a fellow could blanket the world.

Worth Its Weight in Laughs

Despite all the serious news in the newspapers, the silly side of life is still with us.

It is being nourished here by Editor Hoiles of the Register in his battle against the schools and the Rugg textbooks.

So far the comic opera battle has produced two results:

1. Lots of fuss and feathers when Mr. Hoiles tries to interview teachers with a shorthand reporter along.

2. Lots of laughs for the public.

It seems to be the old, old story of an irresistibly funny force meeting an immovable object.

We have been reading and hearing about Mr. Hoiles' stuff on the Rugg textbooks for months.

His arguments to date have only convinced us that the books are unusually sound and sensible.

But here's hoping he doesn't quit the campaign. It's good for a laugh.

The Safe Way to Handle Guns

Age-old experience shows you can't keep the average boy from playing with guns any more than you can keep a duck from water.

If a lad is forbidden to handle shooting irons at home, the chances are 10 to 1 that he'll do it at a friend's house.

Dr. Roy Horton, local authority on weapons, suggests an idea for mothers and fathers who recognize the value of having their youngsters learn the safe way to treat guns.

"Bring them to the junior division of the National Rifle association, which meets every other Wednesday night at the Armory. Myron Warner or I will teach them," he promises.

The double tragedy this week, in which two bright young Orange county boys lost their lives because of loaded .22 rifles, adds point and reason to the doctor's suggestion.

Has anybody noted any recession in the H. C. of L?

It's Use That Counts

A New York pickpocket stole $2,000,000 worth of negotiable bonds two years ago. But after spending two years trying to cash in on them, he voluntarily returned a large part of them because he has found he doesn't know how to peddle them.

The same holds true with intelligence. You can have the mind of an Einstein, but if you don't put it to some practical use it is worthless to you—and the world.

Anti-Lynching
And Kluxing
Don't Mix

By Westbrook
Pegler

I want to poke a stick around in the curious processes by which it is possible to urge the passage of the so-called anti-lynching bill and at the same time not only condone but vigorously defend the appointment to the United States supreme court of a man who admits, but only when cornered with proof, that he once took an oath of allegiance to the Ku Klux Klan.

Whatever its performances—and they are covered with oathbound secrecy—the Ku Klux was a modern revival of an old-time lynching and flogging organization, and its purpose was to terrorize, boycott and otherwise intimidate three special groups of citizens and such other individuals as incurred its disapproval.

It was condemned by all persons of liberal mind as an un-American institution, with the essential gears of an underworld racket, and it finally disintegrated not because of any awakening of shame in its members, but because the field had been completely sold. Everybody who was qualified by mentality, character, race and religion to belong to the Ku Klux Klan had been taken in, and still the vast majority of the citizens were "allies" in the Ku Klux jargon, and the volume of their contempt was sufficient to break it up.

LIKE THE NAZIS

This Ku Klux had much in common with the pagan Nazi movement, and an emissary of the German fanatic in the greasy raicoat once tried to establish relations with it as the American equivalent of Nazism but decided the Klux was too juvenile and gave up. The Nazis held and now insist more aggressively than ever that to be a blond, blue-eyed German with a belief in Adolf Hitler is to partake of the deity of the German god and thus to be God one's self. This man eventually caused some embarrassment between Germany and Italy. For the Italians think that although they are not God himself, they are his favorite children, and the Germans, in their thoughtless early enthusiasm, carelessly proclaimed their belief that all peoples of dark complexion, dark eyes and short legs (a description which fits many of their present Italian allies) contained a touch of the Aryan blood.

Our Klux used the word "Nordic" in place of the Nazis' word
"Aryan," and it was their belief that they were just about the right time and the element commissioned by God to represent Him in this country. They were to maintain discipline, police the morals and personal affairs of all non-members, and elect a government which, like Hitler's, would see that God's will was done according to their version of God's will.
Yet, the elevation of a Klansman to the supreme court received the hearty approval of individuals who also approve a bill which conflicts with the most sacred principles of the organization to which their hero solemnly swore his oath.

IT DOESN'T JIBE

I am puzzled also by the concern for law, order and democratic processes which is shown on behalf of the anti-lynching bill by persons who likewise approve and defend the seizure of property and destruction of property, the fomentation of riots and the intimidation by physical violence and other means of citizens who hold opposite views.

There be some among these defenders of law, order and democratic processes who have been known to resent the mere publication of opinion contrary to their own and to hold that anyone injured or it follows deprived of his life in attempting to pass through a picket line to attend his own accustomed job is not a victim of mob violence, as in a lynching but a victim of his own error.
I can understand the admiration of persons of this kind for the character of a man who joined the Ku Klux Klan. I don't think they would flatly indorse lynching and fight against this bill as a menace to their most cherished principles.

I wonder whether they would agree to the addition of a rider in the lynching bill empowering the federal government to move in and prosecute the local authorities for obvious failure to put forth their best efforts to protect workmen from molestation, injury or death and property from seizure or wanton destruction and to levy an indemnity on the local government.

And then there was the man who was called a bum, a liar and a dirty low-down cross—and he never said a word. Simply force of habit, he was a baseball umpire.

day but it was believed the worst of the flood was over. More than 3000 families have been driven from their homes and last night a dozen schoolhouses harbored unfortunate families, while 25 municipal soup houses have been established.

LONDON.—The London peace conference was broken up today with a note by Balkan allies to Turkey, and renewal of the strife was expected momentarily. Greece had never signed the armistice with Turkey and spasmodic fighting both on land and sea has continued during peace negotiations.

J. R. Nunn, Orange automobilist arrested yesterday by Motorcycle Cop Davenport for speeding on North Main street, will stand trial in City Recorder Willson's court tomorrow. He says his speedometer showed a speed of little over 15 miles an hour when the officer stopped him. Davenport's speedometer registered 22 miles, he said.

Approval of the grand jury recommendation for a second superior judge in Orange county was unanimously voted by the county board association at a called meeting today. Secretary Forgy was authorized to write Senator Anderson and Assemblyman Weis-er asking them to press action for the additional court department.

I'll Tell You

By BOB BURNS

I don't know whether it's the climate out here or if it's the freshness that you always find about young countries, but there is something out here in the West that seems to give ambition a people never seem to get too old to plan for the future.

Grandma and Grandpa Snazzy were out here on a trip not long ago and soon after they got home they were sittin' in front of the fire and Grandma says "Well, Snazzy, we've been together for a good many years, but there soon will come a time when one of us will have to go."

"Well, there ain't no use worryin' about that, now," and Grandma says "No, I was just thinkin'—when that time does come, I would like to live in California."

Bright Moments

Rufus Choate, American statesman and barrister, was nothing if not resourceful. One time his wife was handling a case in which the junior member of the law firm had prepared the briefs. The efficient wished, however, to see Mr.
Choate, and when they had met,
the man said: "Of course, Mr.
Choate, you understand the principle of the Jacquard loom." "Certainly," replied the lawyer, who had no idea what a loom even looked like, "of course, of course."
But assume for the moment that I do not understand the principle of the Jacquard loom and expound it to me as a preliminary."

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

Hollywood next target of monopoly drive; theater owners complained; opposition to Frank's SEC appointment came from big Jewish leaders; Mrs.
Roosevelt's flying trips give airline officials heart failure; Bolivia, Paraguay both rearming heavily, violating their agreement.

WASHINGTON.—Barring some unforeseen hitch, Hollywood is the next to be tagged "it" in the administration's drive against monopolies.

The decision to tackle the big movie distributors and producers was no sudden one. They have been under quiet scrutiny by the justice department for nearly a year.

Cause of the inquiry was numerous complaints by independent theater operators that the big distributors were discriminating against them by refusing to let them have "first run" pictures.
These new feature films are given to theaters owned or controlled by the big boys, and the inde-

In moving on the Hollywood moguls, the justice department reversed its previous policy toward them. For many years, the department had an arrangement with "Czar" Will Hays whereby complaints against the industry were referred to him for adjustment. But when trust-busting Bob Jackson was made head of the anti-monopoly division he put an end to this.

Under Jackson a complaint is handled as the basis for possible legal action. There have been no soft-peddling out-of-court negotiations.

The suit against the movie satraps may introduce a new antimonopoly technique. In view of Judge Geiger's dismissal of a Milwaukee grand jury just as it was about to vote on indictments against the Big Three motor makers, government lawyers may sidestep a grand jury altogether.
Instead, they would take the movie case directly to a federal court with a request for an injunction against alleged monopolistic practices.

Some of the government legalists advocate an even more drastic course, namely an injunction requiring the producers to get rid of their movie houses.

FLYING FIRST LADY

Someone remarked to an airline official, "You must be thankful for the flying First Lady. Gives you a lot of free advertising."

The reply was: "I wish Mrs.
Roosevelt would never come near an airplane again. That lady gives us heart failure."

If anything should happen to a plane carrying Mrs. Roosevelt, the damage to passenger aviation would be incalculable. And the First Lady, usually acting on impulse, gives the airline no time to make a special selection of crew and equipment.

If the weather is not absolutely perfect, the airline is caught in a predicament. If it continues the flight, it takes upon itself the responsibility for the life of the First Lady; if it grounds the plane, the event is widely publicized and unfavorable attention is drawn to the airline.

OPPOSITION TO FRANK

One unique feature of the Roosevelt administration is opposition by Jewish friends of the New Deal to Jewish appointments. Latest instance of this occurred in connection with the SEC appointment of Jerome Frank, hard-hitting ex-counsel of the AAA.

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent fair discussion of our problems is immensely useful. So that every citizen may have his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion, The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag.

JAPAN AND THE BIBLE

To the Editor: The world is shocked by the atrocities of the Japanese invasion of China. We wonder where a nation gained the knowledge of such devilish cruelty towards a peaceful people. Certainly they did not gain it from the philosophy of Confucius. His teachings centered around a negative form of the Golden Rule, namely, do not to others what you do not desire them to do to you.
Nor can we trace it to Buddhism, with its god of compassion and mercy, or its eight principles of right living. Eastern religions emphasize the sacredness and divinity of all forms of life. The wanton annihilation of human beings was not the idealism of the Wise Men of the East. From whence came the scourge of human butchery?

Perhaps we will not like this analysis, nevertheless it is true.
About 100 years ago America opened the door of the closed empire of Japan. We sent missionaries to christianize them by teaching the Bible as the guide of life.

We taught them the Jewish method of confiscation of land by wholesale murder. For example:
King Saul received orders from their war god, Jehovah, to go exterminate the Amalekites, men, women, children, and all forms of life. Jehovah was angry because Saul saved some women and children. So insane was the rage of the war god that Saul was deposed. The priest, Samuel, anoint-ed David as the new king because he was a man after God's heart, he enjoyed shedding human blood for the cause of Jewish nationalism.

This is not an inspiring story for any person to read. But to teach this philosophy of life to the Japanese was disastrous.

Japan needed territory for her overcrowded population. Korea came first, then Mongolia, and then China. Can we blame the Japanese for doing the same thing the Jews practiced under divine sanction?

It would have been better to have left the missionaries at home.
But it is too late now. We taught the Japanese the fundamentals of Jewish militarism and nationalism.
Now we watch a crocodile tears when we see them converted to our insane veneration of a religious fetish—the Bible.

What is more distressing is, the end is not in sight. Perhaps we might regenerate the world by a purely Jewish method. But it will be a hard struggle against entrenched superstition concerning the activities of pagan deities palmied off as the true god. We should have taken Jesus seriously when He gave the warning, if we proselytized any nation to the Jewish idealism, we would make them twofold more children of hell and social chaos than they were before. We cannot expect a miracle to remedy the stupendous stupidity of christendom. We shall have to redeem ourselves, or civilization will continue to degenerate.

HE'S GOOD STUFF

To the Editor: Something very pleasant happened the other day and I want to pass it on to you.
Scrawled across the top of the evening paper one day last week were these words: "I'll stop in tomorrow to pay for the bottle."

The story is easy to read—a hastily thrown paper and the consequent breaking of a milk bottle. And to top it off, the lad returned next day to pay for his bottle!

Of course, he was assured that he did not own the bottle, and that one more broken bottle did not matter a great deal to the milk man. But we were pleased that the lad had developed a sense of honor to rectify his mistakes.

I feel that you are to be congratulated on having a lad like that in your circulation department. I don't know the boy, but I'm convinced he's good stuff. He carries the paper on Bush street just north of 17th.

Howdy, folks! This is the time of year when a wife says: "Darling, don't you like that necktie
I gave you for Christmas? You haven't worn it a single day yet."

And it may have been more blessed to give than to receive on Christmas, but it certainly was not as solvent.

Lil Gee Gee—Oh, I simply adore

Lil Gee Gee's Sweetie—Funny story, heck. I'm losing my mar-

Mrs. Joe Bungstarter says Joe's

"Are you a pretty good judge

"No, I never ate any in my

NEW YORK.—Thoughts while strolling: Memory—that wire jig-ger on the end of the leather shoe string. Newest boo target in the newsreels: Barbara Hutton. No one has burned the candle at both ends more than Rudy Vallee—but look!
He's always merry and bright.

The only write-when-he-pleases columnist: Walter Lippmann. Add up all the accomplished strutters and you still won't have a Harry Richman. Those girls around the bars who imitate the flat, metallic voice of Katharine Hepburn. But all they get is a free drink now and then.

Full moon effect with mustache:
George Bestor. Budded and business partners: Messmore Kendall and Major Bowes. Col. E. M.
House's sphinx-like expression of calm. Somehow you have a feeling Don Herold is one of the fellows with snap shots of the children to spring on you.

Frank Case could pass for a slightly shrunk Dwight Fiske.
Whatever became of Mrs. Enrie Caruso? Park avenue doorman stand at salute when ex-President Hoover strolls to his Waldorf apartment. Jack Lait is another finger snapper at the passing years.
Eula McLaughlin sounds like a glide on roller skates. Last of the bang wearers: Helen Morgan and Irene Bordoni. Joe Kennedy would be a pip for a "gleaming teeth" ad. I have to giggle at the invitation to speak on wild animal night at an adventure club. Me—who takes to the hills at a loose cow!

Maurice H. B. Paul, ace society scribbler, blended his Christmas card sendings with the times this year. Those on his list received the cards he received last year with a pen line drawn through the names of the senders and Paul's written underneath. For instance, ours was his last year's card from Irving and Ellin Berlin. One suspects, however, that Paul's chauffeur delivers them in his master's robin's egg blue Rolls.

Among devoted newspaper mar-rieds are George Clark, an edi-and his wife at night. She gets home around 4 a. m. but he never retires until she arrives. And he goes to sleep every night at home but falls up his wife every hour or so.

Phil Plant, who is hiking off on another safari in Africa in his deluxe trailer, recently showed a travel organization the first colored pictures of animals to come out of the dark continent. Plant, who made his first speech in public, revealed himself a modest fellow with amusing slant on his ex-perimentations. He confessed his amateurism by explaining he took about $500 feet but only got 1200 feet of fairly distinct pictures.
His most comical shots were of giraffes and, coupled with his comments, they fairly rolled the guests in the aisles. Incidentally, the late John Ringling used to feed a certain giraffe to come out of the dark continent. Plant,

Katharine Cornell is one of the stage stars who has never succumbed to the movies and to advertising endorsements. Although she has been besieged from time to time by offers from all three. On one occasion she is reputed to have been offered $10-and merely to say she enjoyed the aroma of a certain Parisian perfume. Hollywood has offered to let her write her own ticket. She loves the legitimate theater and nothing could induce her to desert
it. Anyway, she has amassed considerable fortune sticking to her last.
